ONLY ONCE IN A LIFETIME.

A chance to become rich by buying one lot.

Don't fail to attend HITCHCOCK'S Great Auction of the famous Leggett Property, in the very business centre of Flushing.

To be sold in lots to the highest bidders.

And also the commodious Mansion, containing sixteen rooms.

On WEDNESDAY, October 21, at noon.

By virtue of a contract with the executors of the estate of the late Thomas H. Leggett, deceased, the most valuable property in Flushing, situate on Main, Amity, Union and (new) Locust streets, surrounded by stores and in the centre of traffic and travel, will be offered on terms within the reach of all. In all our business experience we never have been able to offer, heretofore, so valuable property upon such marvelously easy terms of payment.

Only 10 per cent on day of sale.
Only 20 per cent on October 28, inst.
And 5 and 10 years' time for balance.

It is but fair to estimate that these lots will double in value in five years, and more than likely be worth $20,000 each in ten years.

In comparison, it would be like buying property on Broadway, New York, at the prices of twenty years ago, and getting the increased value of it to-day.

There will be no free lunch, and no extraneous inducements to visitors. Only those are invited who desire to secure really valuable property for business and for residence, and those who are seeking the best modes of investment.

Flushing now has excellent sewage, gas, water in pipes, and all the conveniences of New York city; 120 trains daily; seven depots; fare 10 cents on Long Island Railroad (at right hand side of ferry at Hunter's Point).

Visitors can take James slip ferryboat at 10 or 11 A. M., or cross Thirty-fourth street at 10:15 or 11:15 and take train at 10:30 or 11:30 and return at pleasure. Maps and free passes can be had of G. EDWARD CARLL, Auctioneer, in Flushing, and at BENJAMIN W. HITCHCOCK'S Real Estate Headquarters, 355 Third avenue, corner Twenty-sixth street, New York.

THE LOCAL CAMPAIGN.

The Mass Meeting of the Independents To-Night.

THE PROBABLE NOMINEE FOR MAYOR.

The Bolters' Conference Last Evening and Their Action.

Tammany's Troublesome Districts.

Creamer's crusaders, the independent democrats and their German allies, were exceedingly active in the various Assembly districts yesterday, and by four o'clock it was stated that the managers had had every ward canvassed and that the reports from all sides showed that there was a perfect organization of anti-Tammany voters, exclusive of the republicans, in every election district of every Assembly district, and in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth wards. This work of getting the various elements opposed to Tammany together in something like a well organized body was taken up by Mr. Creamer in person the very day after the first meeting was held at Delmonico's, and to his personal efforts and the exertion of the men under his special direction are due apparently the thorough organizations of the independents that are now said to exist in each ward; and certainly, if the new movement should eventually be crowned with success, it will be quite a personal triumph for himself. Despite the fact that the Tammany people assert "there is no bottom to the opposition tub," they were not yesterday totally indifferent to the doings of the independents, for every effort was made during the day to put an end to the quarrel going on between the rival factions in certain of the Assembly districts. Even if the sachems are, as they say they are, confident of victory for the Tammany ticket, they are evidently of the opinion that the Cooper Institute meeting to-night might possibly be, after all, a little too serious to be laughed at, for it was given out last night on good authority that the republicans will not make any nominations to-night but will wait to see what kind of men the independents put in the field; that in fact it is now probable that they may indorse the independents' candidate for Mayor. The Tammany men say that they see no danger in this contingency for their ticket, but, as has already been said, they are determined meanwhile to leave nothing undone that, undone, would give Creamer's followers an advantage in the fight on election day. The independents' candidate will be, it is now almost certain, either Royal Phelps, William H. Neilson or Oswald Ottendorfer, either of whom will accept if nominated.

THE BOLTERS IN COUNCIL.

The Conference Committee, representing the German independent organization, the independent democrats and the industrial labor party, had a private meeting yesterday afternoon at the Germania Assembly Rooms, but transacted no business of any importance, the Germans simply contenting themselves by stating that the "call" for the mass meeting, as amended by the independent democrats, which made it an open invitation to all voters opposed to Tammany Hall, regardless of the stand they desired to take toward either of the State tickets, was satisfactory and had put an end to the only obstacle that had been in the way of a perfect understanding between the organization they represented and the other opponents of the Wigwam candidates. A meeting of the bolters was also held in the evening at the same place, in public, and the consequence was a large and enthusiastic attendance of delegates and others who are interested in the success of the opposition ticket. The best of feeling and the utmost harmony seemed to prevail among the Germans and their liberal and democratic coworkers. Among the liberals was Charles P. Shaw, who actually put in an appearance to seriously put forward the claims of Mayor Havemeyer for a renomination; but as he did not get a chance, and the air did not seem to be healthy for Havemeyerites generally, he had to remain quiet during the meeting and chew the cud of his disappointed ambition as best he could without losing his temper. Strange to say, John Cochrane was not on hand, nor was James O'Brien, although the honorable John's absence was more than compensated for by the presence of Thomas E. Stewart, who his rather confident liberal backers believe might possibly be taken up as a candidate for Mayor by the republicans if the independents to-night should give him the nomination. But that being among the impossibilities, made apparent by the drift of the general feeling of the delegates present at the meeting, there is little danger of Thomas E. being compelled to succeed his friend, the present occupant of the magisterial chair, to whom he has been bound in fond companionship by bonds as strong as hooks of steel ever since that vacancy in the Park Commission was filled so satisfactorily to the liberal party.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Creamer, who, on taking the chair, was very enthusiastically greeted by the assemblage. Without wasting any time in speechmaking he immediately went to work by calling the names of the chairmen of committees from the various districts. By this means it was ascertained that all the districts were represented. Mr. Creamer then announced that a certain number of tickets of admission to Cooper Institute would be then and there given to the chairmen of the delegations. In alluding to this ticket feature of the arrangement he said that the impression had got abroad in the city that no one would be allowed into the body of the hall where the mass meeting was to be held unless he had an admission ticket. This impression was an erroneous one. The mass meeting, he said, was to be an assemblage of the people, and every one who desired to show by their presence that he was against the rule of Tammany would find no Wiskinskie or armed guard at the door. The tickets of admission were simply to be used by gentlemen who were to have seats on the platform. He then added:—"I will say, just here, gentlemen, that some of the newspapers have stated that all the prominent gentlemen whose names have been mentioned in connection with the Mayoralty at our meetings have refused to become candidates. This is a mistake. At least six of the leading citizens of the city have been asked if they would run if nominated, and they not only said they would, but expressed themselves as eager to take the nomination." This statement was received with loud cheers, whereupon Mr. Creamer added:—"The ticket that will be nominated to-morrow night I venture to predict will receive a large majority. I think I know something about what has been done during the past two weeks to place this movement in favor of municipal reform on a strong foundation, and I am so confident of its final triumph that I verily believe that the contest is virtually over; that Tammany, in fact, despite her boasts of confidence, already sees the handwriting on the wall. If Tammany had her County Convention work to do over to-morrow, now that she finds the people in earnest in their opposition to her future dictation, I think she would place a far different ticket in the field than that headed by Wickham and Hayes." These remarks were loudly applauded, and the applause seemed to have an enlivening effect upon Nelson J. Waterbury, who remarked:—"You meant, Mr. Chairman, that 'my candidate' would not be nominated." Waterbury laughed immoderately at what he considered a capital joke, but the audience somehow failed to see the point and allowed him to enjoy his laugh all to himself. After that Mr. Waterbury took a back seat, looking anything but cheerful. It was decided finally, after the routine business of the meeting was over, that another meeting should be held next Thursday evening. The permanent Finance Committee of the independents was then announced, as follows:—Jenkins Van Schaick, James Everard, Francis M. Pursel., John Y. Savage and A. A. Thompson.

James J. Slavin, who was announced at the Saturday night meeting as the chairman of the delegation from the Third Assembly district, states that his name was used without his permission, and that while not indorsing all the Tammany nominations he intends to support Wickham for Mayor.

THE MASS MEETING.

The mass meeting to-night will probably be presided over either by John J. Cisco, Jenkins Van Schaick or ex-Judge Clerke.

THE COUNCIL OF POLITICAL REFORM.

The organization known as the Council of Political Reform assembled last evening in room 24 of the Cooper Institute for the purpose of making permanent arrangements for the coming campaign. At a meeting previously held resolutions were passed and a call issued. These resolutions set forth the proposed plan of campaign. It was suggested that a convention should be appointed for the purpose of nominating and conducting the election of suitable candidates for the city and county offices to be filled at next election. This Convention is to consist of eighty members, forty-four of whom shall be representatives of the Assembly districts of the city (being two for each Assembly district and three members at large, selected as representatives of the leading social and business interests and institutions of the city. Immediately upon the organization of the Convention, it shall proceed to select candidates for the several city and county offices and members of Assembly who are publicly known and conspicuous for their intelligence, integrity and general qualifications for the duties of these offices, due regard being had to the understood political character of the voters in sympathy with this movement. The plan also set forth that during the formation of this ticket the Convention will confer with the leading political parties with the view of having the candidates of this independent ticket accepted as their own by the political party with which the several independent candidates are in political sympathy.

At the meeting last night some sixty or seventy gentlemen assembled in room 24. Among them were Messrs. F. R. Wood, J. W. Hawes, D. D. Ramsey, Joseph Haight, H. J. Newton, C. G. Thompson, E. D. Wolf, C. T. Reynolds, D. A. Hawkins, Henry Nicol, R. A. Witthaus, J. P. Huggins, John Boyd, William Gardiner, Commissioner of Docks; G. W. Dean, James Boyd, Henry Tice, John Sperry, Henry Haight, R. G. Cornell, John Young and H. N. Beers. It was undoubtedly a respectable and representative gathering. Merchants, lawyers and business men generally were among the delegates. Ex-Judge Emott was called to the chair, J. L. Thornell appointed Secretary, and R. A. Witthaus, William H. Webb and H. Monteith nominated as Vice Presidents.

Mr. BENJAMIN TATHAM remarked that the meeting should decide upon some principle of action. We were now ruled by a class of professional politicians, and it was our duty to cast off the yoke. By the Comptroller's last report the city was spending $30,000,000 annually without decreasing the debt. Something should be done to stop this. He concluded by offering a series of resolutions, setting forth that the enormous taxation levied upon the taxpayers of the city of New York during the last year has been absorbed by the current expenditure without reducing the vast public debt previously incurred by the reckless extravagance and corruption of party politicians. These resolutions continued with the request that the reform associations of the city of New York be invited to concentrate all their energies and influence to receive the affirmative votes of the people in favor of the proposed amendments to the constitution by which the Legislature of the State shall be prohibited from legislating upon local affairs and corruption prevented; to limit the taxation of the city for its current expenses, after providing for the principal and interest upon the public debt to one per cent upon the assessed values of real and personal estate, and to that end that all unnecessary public expenditure should be immediately arrested until the public debt shall be reduced to $20,000,000 and its final liquidation provided for without taxation; that the abominable nuisances by which the atmosphere of New York is polluted, and the health and the lives of the inhabitants destroyed, shall be promptly abated by a Board of Health; that citizens of high character and sufficient energy be selected by the District Reform Associations for Mayor, Aldermen and Representatives in the Legislature, who shall be pledged to use their best endeavors to attain those several objects, and that all good citizens of the city of New York, without distinction of parties, be invited to support and elect them.

These resolutions were passed and a committee of eleven appointed to confer with other organizations as to the best men to be supported for city and county nominations. The following are the gentlemen comprising this committee:—Messrs. Willy Wallach, H. N. Beers, Edw. Fitch, N. H. Webb, P. W. Moeller, J. C. Jackson, Marc Eidlitz, K. F. Page, Henry Dayton, Robert G. Cornell and J. M. Requa.

A committee of eleven was also appointed to confer relative to Assembly nominations.

Considerable discussion took place as to the proper course for the Council to pursue in the coming canvass. One delegate asked a very pertinent question as to the expenses of running the machine; whether in the event of the different committees failing to agree upon nominations with other organizations, would an independent ticket be nominated? The cost of running boxes in this emergency was set down at $20,000 throughout the whole city. Who was to pay this large amount?

Mr. TATHAM said that he was willing to pay the amount necessary to run the boxes in his own district.

Mr. WALLACH remarked that he was authorized to state the expenses of three other districts would be defrayed.

Mr. WITTHAUS did not think it feasible to raise so large an amount of money in such a short space of time. He was a practical man and did not believe in visionary ideas. He had been caught in this trap before, and had to pay a considerable sum for the running of boxes.

This point created a heated discussion, which lasted some time. A resolution was finally passed that the association run boxes in the various districts should the Conference Committees fail to agree with other organizations upon candidates.

It was announced that the future headquarters of the Council of Political Reform would be at No. 48 East Twenty-third street.

The Convention adjourned to meet on Monday evening next, unless sooner called together.

TAMMANY COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION.

The Tammany Committee on Organization held a prolonged session at the wigwam yesterday afternoon and last evening to hear the reports of sub-committees appointed to investigate the troubles in the Twentieth, Sixteenth and Sixth Assembly districts and in the Fifth Congressional district. An effort was made to have Peter Woods sign a paper pledging that no matter what decision should be come to in his case, he would support the democratic State and Tammany city and county ticket. This he refused to do, stating as a reason why he would not sign the paper that he was not as the representative of a majority of the voters of the Sixteenth District authorized to pledge them to anything. As for Mr. Powers, he challenged him to give up his berth in the Marine Court and run as a candidate in the district. He would guarantee him one of the most positive defeats ever a candidate got in the city. He (Mr. Woods) and his friends were "regular" and really represented the democracy of the district.

The complaint of Judge Hogan as to Meade's candidacy for Congress in the Fifth Congressional district was referred to a sub-committee of five to report to the main committee to-day in the forenoon. The Judge and his friends claim that Meade is not a resident of the district and that for many years past the Congressional nominations, with an occasional exception, have been given to outsiders. They instanced the cases of Sickles, Wallbridge, Wood, and Roosevelt. "If the district," said Judge Hogan, "is not good enough for them to live in, let candidates for Congress go somewhere else for a nomination. The district is always claimed by democratic outsiders because it is sure to go democratic."

Evidence was heard on the Twentieth district difficulty, and the decision will be given in favor of the Conner party, which secures the defeat of Coughlin for a regular nomination for the Assembly.

The Sixth district hubbub, caused by Matthew Patten's insisting upon running counter to Tim Campbell for the Assembly, was "left to the district Convention to decide." This is Tim's version of the committee's action; but the matter in fact was referred to a sub-committee, who will report to-day. As the Assembly conventions meet to-night the difficulties must be bridged over before six this evening. It is believed that the committee will succeed in securing harmony all round by that time.

ANOTHER GERMAN CANDIDATE.

A committee from the Independent German Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the office of Judge A. J. Dittenhoefer, at which were present Messrs. Dittenhoefer, Ex-Governor Edward Salomon, Herrman Muhr, Morris Friedsam and Otto Strobb, editor of the New Yorker Demokrat. It was resolved that in the event of the Republican County Convention, which meets this evening, nominating a German for Mayor, the name of Mr. Frederick Kuhne be suggested to the Convention for earnest consideration.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

The Conference Committee of this party, appointed on Saturday by the association of which Jacob Cohen is President, resolved to put Mayor Havemeyer in nomination, and a mass meeting to ratify the nomination was decided upon, to be held next Thursday evening at Cooper Institute.

MEETINGS LAST NIGHT.

The American "Six" Association Campaign Club, organized for the purpose of advancing the claims of William H. Wickham for Mayor, held an adjourned meeting last evening at their club house, No. 264 East Broadway, Henry E. Lynch presiding. Meetings are to be held every evening during the campaign.

A large meeting of independent democrats and liberal republicans was held last night in West Thirty-seventh street, to ratify the candidacy of Captain James F. Keegan for the Assembly. Dr. Henry Wygant Hazleton presided. A ward committee of seventy-two members was named, to canvass the district. Great enthusiasm prevailed.

The democracy of the Twenty-second ward gathered in large numbers last night at National Hall, Forty-fourth street. Mr. Jerome Buck occupied the chair. Speeches were made by Hon. Fernando Wood, Richard Schell, General Frank Spinola, Leon Dessar, and several others, and the best feeling prevailed. A similar meeting was held at No. 822 Tenth avenue, J. L. Kreuser presiding, and prominent democrats delivered addresses.

About 100 persons last evening organized a Workingmen's Independent Political Club of the Nineteenth ward at Carroll's Park, East Fifty-ninth street. David Carroll, Daniel Hartnett, John Lane and others addressed the club.

The colored voters of the Fifth ward last evening chose James Blake president of the ward association.

KINGS COUNTY POLITICS.

The Hundred in Session Last Evening.

The Citizens' Reform Association, better known as the One Hundred, met last evening in the Directors' room of the Brooklyn Academy of Music, Franklin Woodruff in the chair. The Treasurer reported that the treasury of the organization was in a very weakly condition, the balance on hand being but $33. The resignation of Mr. L. Painter was tendered and received. Mr. Van Nostrand stated that he was in receipt of $100, a donation which was gratefully received by the Treasurer. The Legislative Committee offered a report recommending amendments to the constitution of the State. Mr. Esweighe read a communication on the proposed amendments from L. Bradford Prince advocating an increase of the salaries of members of the Senate and Assembly.

Important Democratic Irregular Caucus.

Last evening there was a general conference held in the hall of the National Democratic General Committee of Kings county, Court street, between sub-committees of the Irish Association, the German Democratic Committee, Workingmen's Committee and the "Nationals." The proceedings were conducted with closed doors. The subject of discussion was the course they should pursue to compel the "regulars" to acknowledge their claims for representation on the tickets which are now being slated for the action of the conventions which are to be held on Wednesday and Thursday next. The regulars are not disposed to acquiesce to the demands of the outside organizations and the latter threaten to run a separate ticket on election day, provided they can obtain the means to do so. There will be another caucus of the outside or alliance committees to-night, when definite measures of procedure will be decided upon.

TWELFTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

WHITE PLAINS, Oct. 19, 1874.

At a Republican Congressional Convention, held in this village to-day, ex-Assemblyman Amherst Wight, Jr., of Rye, was unanimously nominated for member of Congress from the Twelfth Congressional district. The district comprises Westchester county as its boundaries existed prior to the passage of the Annexation act.

It is now believed in intelligent circles that ex-Congressman Clarkson N. Potter, in accordance with the almost universal desire of the party, will reconsider his recent declination of the candidacy, and will be induced to accept a renomination by the Democratic Congressional Convention, which meets at Mount Kisco to-morrow.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 19, 1874.

The Democratic Congressional Convention at Owego on Saturday nominated General E. F. Jones, liberal, of this city, vice Edward S. Esty, declined.

ASSEMBLY NOMINATION.

WASHINGTON, Warren Co., N. Y., Oct. 19, 1874.

J. T. Johnston, of Washington, was to-day unanimously nominated for the Assembly by the republicans of the First district of Warren county.

THE JERSEY CITY DEMOCRACY.

An Immense Mass Meeting—Serenade to Judge Bedle.

The largest gathering of the democratic clan witnessed in Jersey City for years assembled last evening in Kepler Hall. F. G. Walbert was chosen chairman. Addresses were delivered by Attorney General Gilchrist, Assemblymen McGill, of Jersey City and Fitzgerald, of Newark, Leon Abbett, Norman L. Rowe and others. Kepler Hall is the largest public hall in the city and it was literally packed. It was found necessary to improvise a platform in the street. When the meeting adjourned a torchlight procession was formed, headed by a band, and proceeded to Judge Bedle's residence in Sussex street. In this procession the grand feature was the display of the Bedle battery from the Third district, a splendid body of men in uniform. The column filed slowly by the residence of Judge Bedle, that gentleman, surrounded by some friends, viewing it from one of the windows of his parlor. As the thousands of spectators passed cheers went up, and for fifteen or twenty minutes the scene was one of the wildest enthusiasm. A great many expected that the Judge would make a speech; but he remained firm to his original purpose—to do nothing in the way of playing the politician. Among those who stood beside him were two of his sons, Assemblyman McGill, Dr. Varick, S. B. Ransom, J. A. Nugent and Mr. Coates.

The democratic Assembly nominations for Hudson county are nearly all made. The candidates for the remaining districts are F. H. Snyder for the Third, Alexander McDonnell for the Fourth and C. Chauncey Burr for the Eighth. The dissensions in the Fourth have not yet been healed, and there is a strong probability that the republicans will carry the district.

ALLEGED BALLOT STUFFING IN NEWARK.

Complaint has been made, on oath, to the Grand Jury, in session in Newark, charging that last Tuesday one Ralph Jefferson, a republican Judge of Election in the Sixth ward of Newark, Second district, tampered with the ballot box and defrauded many citizens of their lawful rights. It is alleged that Jefferson adroitly substituted a large number of republican tickets in favor of James Patterson for those offered by voters for Henry C. Dusenbury; that democratic tickets were found in his pocket and on the floor by his side, and that in several instances the witness actually saw the corrupt act of substitution. The witnesses include ex-Alderman Geoken and other reputable citizens. It is reported that Jefferson has since attempted to commit suicide by poison, but took an insufficiency.

GENERAL BANKS FOR CONGRESS.

No Nomination Made by the Democrats of the Fifth District.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 19, 1874.

The Fifth Congressional District Democratic Convention met to-day, but made no nomination. This action is noticeable as betokening the joint support of General N. P. Banks by the democrats and liberal republicans in the coming campaign. It is known that Banks will run as the independent candidate, and in view of this the Convention adopted resolutions declaring it to be inexpedient to make a nomination.

FRAUDS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Protest Against the Election Frauds Committee—An Alleged Conspiracy.

LANCASTER, Oct. 19, 1874.

At a large republican meeting here this evening, a protest was made against the late Election Frauds Committee, which was appointed to raise funds and prosecute offenders. This evening suits were instituted against J. Cameron Muhlenberg, Harvey Raymond, F. Sledgemilch and J. Brubaker for conspiracy to defraud Dr. P. J. Roebuck of his nomination, and Isaac Musser, H. B. Becker and John Brendel, election officers, for violating the primary election laws.

Struck From the Registry Lists.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19, 1874.

In the Court of Common Pleas 659 names have been struck from the registry lists on democratic petitions.

DOCTORS AT DELMONICO'S.

A dinner was given last evening at Delmonico's, Fourteenth street and Fifth avenue, by the medical department of the University of the City of New York, to Professor John Erie Erichsen, F. R. C. S., of University College, London, England. The guests numbered about fifty, and included Dr. Thompson, Dr. Willard Parker, Dr. Gross, Dr. Hammond, Dr. Budd, Judge Brady, Commissioner Laimbeer and the representatives of the medical faculty of the various public institutions of the city. Professor Erichsen, the guest of the evening, in acknowledgment of the toast of his health, said that he had been received with so much kindness and so much personal hospitality during his short visit to this country, wherever he had been, that he could not regard those whom he addressed as strangers in any sense. Wherever he went in the pursuit of his professional inquiries he found the medical men pursuing the same methods, animated by the same high purpose, having the same great characteristics as those engaged in that profession in England, of which he was but an humble representative. They might be Americans whom he was addressing, but he was certain that they belonged to one and the some family. Among the many things that he had learned during his stay in this country was the greatly advanced practice in reference to hospitals in America over that of England. He was struck with the minute attention paid to sanitary matters in hospitals, to cleanliness in every particular, to isolation, and other things that are greatly in advance of such matters in England. England had very much to learn of America in this respect. He had seen the hospitals at Washington under the direction of Dr. Billings, and thought that in many respects they were worthy of the imitation of the civilized world. Dr. Willard Parker, Dr. Gross, Judge Brady and a number of other gentlemen delivered short speeches.

DINNER TO LORD DUFFERIN.

A dinner was given last evening at Delmonico's, Fourteenth street and Fifth avenue, by a few citizens of prominence to His Excellency the Earl of Dufferin, K. C. B., Governor General of Canada. The dinner was strictly of a private character, and among those present were Mr. William Butler Duncan, William M. Evarts, Joseph H. Choate, David Dudley Field, Royal Phelps and Edwin D. Morgan.

TROTTING VS. PACING AT DEERFOOT PARK.

Two "harness races" were announced to come off yesterday afternoon at the Deerfoot Park—the first between William Lovell's bay trotting mare American Girl and W. Crawford's roan pacing gelding Copperbottom, the second between the bay gelding Barney Kelly and bay mare Annie Collins, owned by Lovell & Crawford. The first race came off, but the other was compromised in some way and the horses did not appear. In the contest between American Girl and Copperbottom the mare was the favorite before the start at 25 to 10, and after being beaten the first heat she was still the favorite at the same amount of odds. Copperbottom broke up in the second heat and the mare beat him easily and became a greater favorite than before, selling for 25 to 8. American Girl won the two subsequent heats quite easily, the pacer being evidently out of fix, as he seemed inclined to break when called on for speed.

The track was in very fair condition, but there was a high wind prevailing that made the dust fly in clouds. This, however, did not seem to impede the horses much, although the time made was not as fast as the spectators expected to witness, and they were not altogether satisfied with the result. There was not near the amount of money received at the gates that was required to pay the purse, and the proprietor must have been a great loser by the transaction. Two hundred people was a large estimate of the number within the enclosure at any time during the day.

The following are the details of the sport as it progressed.

THE RACE.

First Heat.—American Girl was the favorite at 25 to 10. The horses had an even start, but Copperbottom having the pole took the lead around the turn and at the quarter pole was four lengths in front of the mare, in 37 seconds. He kept in front to the half-mile pole, passing that point two lengths ahead in 1:15. Copperbottom led two lengths to the three-quarter pole, and, keeping steadily at work, won the heat by half a length in 2:28.

Second Heat.—American Girl was still the favorite at 25 to 10. She had the best of the start, but broke up immediately afterward and lost several lengths. Copperbottom was four lengths ahead of the mare at the quarter pole, in 36¾ seconds. When about midway between the quarter and half-mile poles Copperbottom broke up badly, and American Girl went to the front and led eight or ten lengths at the half-mile pole, in 1:15. She went on with this advantage, and won the heat by a dozen lengths, in 2:27¾.

Third Heat.—The mare the favorite at 25 to 8. The horses scored a dozen times or more before they were started, and then the mare got away first and led around the upper turn four lengths. She was three lengths in front at the quarter pole, in 37¼ seconds, and was one length and a half ahead at the half-mile, in 1:15¼. Copperbottom closed up on the way to the three-quarter pole, and when 200 yards from home he pulled out and made a very spirited, but unsuccessful, effort to overtake the mare. American Girl won the heat by half a length, in 2:26¾.

Fourth Heat—The pool selling was at an end, as there was nobody willing to take the odds against American Girl at any rate. Copperbottom had a trifle the best of the lead, but the mare soon went to the front and led two lengths around the upper turn, and was almost about the same distance in front at the quarter pole in 36¾ seconds. Copperbottom afterwards closed on the mare rapidly, and at the half-mile pole (time 1:14) American Girl led but a neck. The mare shook the pacer off again, but it was for a short time only. He came again rapidly, and just at the moment that he reached her shoulder he broke all to pieces and the race was over. American Girl came on and won the heat and race by a dozen lengths in 2:28. The following is a

NEW DORP CLUB GROUNDS.

One hundred and fifty persons assembled at the New Dorp Club Grounds three-quarter mile track yesterday afternoon to witness the decision of the purse of $125 offered by the proprietor, Mr. D. R. Ryers. Entered for this were the following:—Mr. Frazee's brown mare Lady Wood, James Ward's bay mare Bessie B., George N. Ferguson's black mare Sweetmeats, James Wood's sorrel mare Cecelia, James Park's chestnut gelding John P. (formerly Pompey), and William MacRoberts' brown mare Mollie Carew. Of these Lady Wood, Cecelia and John P. came for the word. There was no betting, it being the impression that the Lady "couldn't lose it." In the first heat they were sent away on even terms, but before going 100 yards Cecelia and Wood left their feet, and John P. went to the front for an instant, when Cecelia, settling first, took the post of honor. Around the lower turn Wood again went into the air and indulged in a lively run, but entering the stretch she trotted very prettily and took the sorrel by the head, and they had it nip and tuck the rest of the way, the Lady leaving her feet and running across the score, with Cecelia a head in front. John P. was five lengths in the rear. The judges very erroneously decided it a dead heat, forgetting to take into consideration that Cecelia did far the most trotting. Time for the three-quarters, 2:00. In the second heat the Lady got away in advance of the others and was never headed, winning by two lengths, Cecelia second and John P. four lengths away. Time, 1:58. In the third and fourth heats Cecelia had the best of the send-off, and gamely continued in front until the stretch was reached, when the Lady's long stride told grandly in her favor, and she beat the sorrel under the wire half a length each heat. Time, 1:57½—1:57¼.

A CUSTOM HOUSE FRACAS.

A Cashier and a Broker Have a Little "Onpleasantness."

Just as the business of the day was being closed yesterday afternoon a little scene was enacted in the Custom House, which made things quite pleasant for loungers, so numerous just about election time. Shortly before three o'clock Mr. Dunbar, a broker, entered the Custom House and went to one of the cashier's desks to make a payment. While the business was being transacted some dispute arose about the character of some of the money paid in. Newell, the cashier, said the money was too much mutilated, or something to that effect. The broker denied this, and hot words were passed, which, in a few minutes, brought the combatants to blows. Mr. Newell picked up an inkstand and threw it across the desk at Mr. Dunbar. Dunbar tried to dodge the missile, but was not quick enough. It hit him on the top of the head, inflicting an ugly wound. While this little battle was going on quite a party had gathered, and among them was Officer Powers, of the New street police, who arrested Dunbar and Newell and brought them to the New street station house, where Dunbar made a complaint of assault and battery against Newell. The party were brought to the Tombs, where Judge Kasmire, after hearing the case, committed Newell to answer the charge preferred against him.

THE PARIS CONGRESS OF GEOGRAPHICAL SCIENCES.

The French Society of Geography, impressed by the success obtained by the Congress of Antwerp, appeals to all foreign savans and those taking an interest in geographical sciences, and invites them to assemble in Paris in 1875. This meeting is to be called the "International Congress of Geographical Sciences." The Central Committee of the society having made all arrangements to secure success and to allow the public in general to be present, has joined to the Congress an exhibition of the greatest interest to the learned men of all nations. This exhibition consists of all the books, maps, instruments and collections relating to geography, and will be opened to the public on the 31st of March, 1875, the day of the grand opening of the "International Congress." It will last until the 30th of April.

Baron Reillé has been appointed Commissaire General of the Congress, and Comte de Bizament, Ivan du Brack and L. de Torcy are Commissioners of the Exhibition.

All foreigners desirous of joining as members or exhibitors can apply to M. Jacquemin, of the French Consulate General in New York, and member of the society, and receive from him all information concerning the coming Congress.

CHURCH CONFERENCES.

Meetings of Clerical and Lay Delegates Yesterday—Episcopalians, Lutherans, Methodists and Presbyterians.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

The Convention had another secret, though comparatively quiet session yesterday, from twelve M. till nearly five o'clock P. M. Having had their souls and bodies refreshed by the quiet and religious meditation of the Sabbath, and having had various conferences and caucuses among themselves, between the hour of adjournment on Saturday and the hour of meeting yesterday morning, the deputies were better prepared than they had been any day of the past week to discuss calmly and temperately the mystery of eucharistic adoration and ritualistic postures and genuflexions on which they have wasted so much breath already and given so little satisfaction to their constituents. Nevertheless, they have decided that having taken one false step they must continue to repeat their error, because it would be unfair to Dr. Seymour now, they say, in the present state of the debate to sit with open doors. Hence the secret sessions will be resumed this morning. The great speech of yesterday was made by ex-Judge Cambridge Livingstone, of New York. It was a calm and temperate review of the situation and of the arguments pro and con. that have been put forth by debaters on this subject. It was also a well put argument against the doctrines believed to be held and practised by Dr. Seymour, though not at all directed toward his personal character or standing as a Christian gentleman and minister. The speech almost completely turned the scale against the Doctor's confirmation, and had the vote been taken immediately thereafter it is believed that his defeat would have been certain. The bishops are more than three to one in his favor, and his confirmation in their house is already a foregone conclusion.

Dr. Seymour has emphatically denied the charges of ritualism that have been made against him on the floor of the Convention, and especially that which was made a day or two ago that he had heard confessions from the seminary students and had countenanced their Connecticut "retreats."

The devotions yesterday were led by Revs. S. M. Bird and W. R. Richardson, of Texas; Dr. Farrington, of New Jersey, and Bishop Lay, of Easton, Md. The canon on church music, sent down by the bishops on Saturday and not acted on at that time, was, after some debate, referred to the Committee on Canons. The Committee on Constitutional Amendments reported the inexpediency of making any change in the present basis of representation in the general conventions.

RANK AMONG BISHOPS.

Dr. Schenck introduced an Episcopal levelling amendment to the constitution. It touches a point dear to the Episcopal heart—namely, that of caste and superiority. It asks the Committee on Amendments to report some measure whereby all the bishops of the Church, missionary and diocesan, shall stand on the same platform of equality and with equal jurisdiction, and to make the transfer of bishops from one diocese to another practicable. This measure has very great importance prospectively. There is already a strong tendency toward hierarchical distinctions among the Episcopate, and the missionary bishops are especially made to feel that they are allowed seats in the house by sufferance, but they have no vote. It is also proposed now to erect a number of provinces after the fashion of the Roman Church, and this Convention will be called upon to legislate on the subject. Then archbishops and metropolitans and cathedrals and all the other paraphernalia of the Anglican and Roman churches on this line may follow.

THE METHODIST PREACHERS.

The Methodist ministers met yesterday, as usual, and listened to an able address by the Rev. J. M. Buckley on the influence of Christianity in the world, particularly in the United States. He traced it in the different denominations and churches, in the governments and laws and over the people. This influence is seen in the government, in the acknowledgment of God in public documents and proclamations, in the administration of oaths, in the laws on usury, on polygamy, on divorce, &c.; in the general cessation of business on the Sabbath, in the observance of Thanksgiving Day, in the morality of the people which consigns to oblivion such men as Colfax and others connected with the Crédit Mobilier and Pacific Railroad jobs, in the reverence and respect shown to the institutions of the Christian Church, and especially toward ministers.

Bishop Harris having just returned from his tour round the world was warmly greeted by the brethren and requested to address them briefly. Drs. Gervase Smith and W. H. Cawnforth, delegates to the Canadian Wesleyan Church, who were with the Bishop, made brief addresses. A farewell missionary meeting was held in St. Paul's church in the evening and the outgoing missionaries to India gave their valedictories and received the adieus of their friends.

THE LUTHERAN SYNOD.

The Synod of the Evangelical Church of New York and Philadelphia reassembled yesterday morning in St. James' church, Rev. Dr. Strobel in in the chair. The special order for the day, the admission of the new church on Jersey City Heights, was discussed at length and referred to a committee. Some minor business filled the morning session. In the afternoon Mr. Cronholm made a report of his mission work among the Scandinavians of the New England States. He was followed by several speakers on the same subject, when the Synod, by resolution, appointed a committee to devise a plan for more effectually prosecuting the work among the fast increasing Scandinavian population.

After an address by Rev. Mr. Gamble of the ministerium on the happy relations between the two bodies and replies from several members of the Synod, the following gentlemen were named delegates to the General Synod:—Rev. W. D. Strobel, D. D.; Rev. A. C. Wedekind, D. D.; Rev. William Hull, Rev. Irving Magee, D. D.; Rev. George U. Wenner, A. M.

Alternates—Rev. Thomas T. Everett, Rev. Eph. Deyoe, Rev. George Neff, Rev. J. C. Day, Rev. P. Rizer.

Lay Delegates—Mr. George P. Ockerchausen, Mr. John G. Shultz, Mr. J. W. Van Wormer, Mr. J. Scheimer, Jr.; Mr. N. Cronholm.

To the Hartwick Synod—Rev. W. W. Gulish.

To the Franchean Synod—Rev. Professor Bergstresser.

To the New York Ministerium—Rev. Dr. Wenner.

Directors to the Seminary at Gettysburg—Rev. Dr. A. C. Wedekind, D. D., and the Rev. J. Ilgen Burrell.

In the evening Rev. Dr. A. Hiller preached on "True Preaching and Its Results," after which the following gentlemen were ordained licentiates:—A. Martenuss, A. K. Felton and W. E. Traver. The ceremony was exceedingly interesting and impressive.

THE PRESBYTERY OF NEW YORK.

An adjourned meeting of the Presbytery of New York was held yesterday at the Rev. Dr. Booth's church, University place, the Moderator, Rev. Dr. Newell presiding. The report of the committee in regard to the Forty-second street church was adopted, and a committee was appointed to secure the property if proper pecuniary arrangements can be made. The Sabbath School Committee were fully indorsed by the Presbytery and directed to prosecute their work. After the transaction of some routine business the Presbytery adjourned for one month.

FAREWELL MISSIONARY MEETING.

A meeting of a peculiarly interesting character was held last evening in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, at the corner of Twenty-second street and Fourth avenue. It was a farewell to the missionaries who leave for India on the steamer Minnesota to-day, and as a warm testimonial from their friends and the congregation of St. Paul's church, was of so genuine a character as to assure the departing clergymen of the heartiest sympathy in their noble work.

There were present, among others, the Rev. Dr. Chapman, Bishops Janes and Harris, Rev. Dr. Dashiell, Dr. Durbin, Revs. Robinson, Hard, Thomas, Goodwin, and Wetherbee and wife, missionaries. The exercises commenced by singing the appropriate 990th hymn. Dr. Reed followed this by a fervent prayer. Brother Wetherbee, a former missionary, and now of the Indian Conference, said:—He knew how these brethren felt. He had been in similar circumstances. To go into a foreign country, perhaps to remain there for life, is a serious matter, but he thought it the most glorious work a man could perform. When he was first appointed, he said, he prayed all night before he could settle it in his mind that it was his duty to go. He went cheerfully and remained until he was literally carried out. It takes more grace to leave the work than to go to it. Missionaries at length become so identified with the people that they feel that it is their place to remain.

Brother Goodwin, who is about to go to Bombay, said he had no idea of speaking to-night, but he could give his experience in being called to the work. He had no impressions from his boyhood that he would be a missionary, but, as Dr. Dashiell said on one occasion at the Drew Seminary, "You can no more divide the home work from the foreign work than you can divide Christ."

Brother Robinson said:—I wish I could speak as an incomer instead of an outgoer. I like to speak of victories won. We are indebted to the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. God bless these noble Methodist women, our sisters.

Brother Hard then joined Brothers Robinson and Goodwin in the hymn, "Ho, my Comrades."

Mrs. Thomas, who also goes to India, said:—Those who know me know with what a glad heart I stand before you to-night. I have yearned to be one of the outgoers. I used to think when I saw how cold the Christians were when they heard the gospel how happy I would be to carry the message to heathen homes where it has never been heard.

There was then some delightful singing in Hindostanee, in which a native sister, Banerjee, joined. Brother Clark B. Hard spoke a few words before the "Love Feast" commenced. He said that he had been converted at just five years and a half of age, and that he was very glad to get the oyster dinner over so that the prayer meeting might commence.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

The New York Sunday School Teachers' Association held their first monthly meeting after their summer vacation yesterday evening, at the Fourth avenue Presbyterian church. Mr. E. C. Wilder presided, and Mr. Wisewell acted as secretary. The large edifice was crowded with Sunday school teachers, most of them, of course, belonging to the fair sex. After the usual religious exercises Rev. Dr. Hepworth delivered an interesting address on the subject of Sunday school teaching, exhorting those present to be zealous and earnest in the work. He would have the lesson of the hour, the glory of the work, made exceedingly emphatic by their earnestness. Would that every Sabbath school teacher felt a kind of sacred dedication and received the true inspiration into his soul. In his opinion the best teaching was not that of lips, but that of character. A teacher came into magnetic and spiritual contact with children, who felt the weight of his character, even though they did not comprehend the significance of his utterances. Rev. John Hall spoke on the lesson for next Sunday, "The Restoring of the Sight of the Blind Bartimeus," and religious exercises closed the meeting.

THE FREE CHURCH GUILD.

A public service on behalf of the Free Church Guild was held last evening at the Church of the Holy Communion, corner of Sixth avenue and Twentieth street. After the usual religious exercises a number of addresses were delivered, the first by Rev. Charles R. Bonnell, of Takoma, W. T. The Church, said the reverend speaker, was for Christ's glory and not for man's. Even in the times of Abraham the Church was supported by offerings. Did the Divine Master give any benefits to any persons who would arrange for the holding of worship? No, this was all very far from what was called the pew system, which did not manifest any character of supreme love for Christ. There were no restrictions in the glorious temple of Christ—everybody could come, the blind and the lame. As it was now, a great many people would feel as though they intruded by going to a certain church. The reverend speaker argued in this fashion that the pew system should be abolished. The next speaker was the Right Rev. H. B. Whipple, Bishop of Minnesota, who dwelt on the other advantages of the Free Church system. The Right Rev. H. A. Seely, Bishop of Maine, and Rev. A. C. Garrett, of Omaha, spoke also on the same subject, after which the services terminated with the usual religious exercises.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

The annual session of the New York Conference Temperance Society was opened last night at the Thirtieth street Methodist Episcopal church with a sermon to the delegates by the Rev. William Lloyd, of Poughkeepsie. The subject of the discourse was "The Conflict of Christianity and Intemperance." It was treated ably and with eloquence, and the sermon was a fitting prelude to the business proceedings of the Convention which will begin this morning. The delegates to the Convention will assemble at half-past eight o'clock to-day, in the same church, and participate in a prayer meeting for an hour. Afterward papers will be read by C. A. Hart and the Revs. J. P. Hermance and A. Ostrander. Discussions on the various projects for repressing drunkenness will follow, until four P. M., when a union children's mass meeting will be held. In the evening a great mass meeting will take place, at which the Revs. A. M. Stratton, D. D., and G. H. Cory will deliver addresses.

CONSECRATION OF A BISHOP.

QUEBEC, Oct. 19, 1874.

The consecration of Rev. Mr. Racine as the first Bishop of the diocese of Sherbrook took place in St. John's church yesterday, with the usual ceremonies. His Lordship left for Sherbrook to-day. Fitting demonstrations took place before his departure.

THE ARREST OF THE "STAMP-MAN."

How Bryant, the Forsyth Street Miser, Conducted His Business of Buying Stolen Stamps.

The arrest of Luther Bryant having been effected by a private detective, a HERALD reporter called at his office yesterday, and heard the following statement:

"Surveillance was commenced on Bryant, the William street stamp-man, about the 15th of September, it having been reported that he was purchasing postage stamps from boys of tender age, and men, who had stolen them. On the 21st of September, a man employed in a banker's office in Exchange place was detected in the theft of about $20 worth of stamps. He confessed to his employer, after an interview with Mr. Davies, and his employer discharged him. During the investigation by us of the manner in which Bryant did his business we discovered about forty boys selling stamps to him at two-thirds of their value. We have the names and where these boys were employed, and nearly all of them have been discharged, save about a dozen, who are to be used as witnesses. Among the firms victimized are J. M. Wentz & Co., No. 388 Broadway; Chapman, Smith & Britton, No. 61 Leonard street; Donaldson Brothers, No. 4 Mission place; United States Tea Company, Vesey street; Eugene S. Battin, No. 24 Exchange place; Potter, Potter & Lowray, No. 61 Wall street, and Eberhardt Faber, No. 133 William street.

"We have not been able to trace what the receiver did with his stolen stamps. We think that he took in about $50 to $60 worth of stamps a day on an average. I myself applied to Justice Bixby for a search warrant, but he declined to give it, on the ground that postage stamps if found in Bryant's possession could not be identified.

How the Arrest Was Made.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

Permit me to correct a few of the inaccuracies and omissions of your report in Sunday's HERALD of my connection with the "Luther Bryant affair."

Some two weeks ago I received information from "Davies' Detective Agency" to the effect that one of my errand boys (not my son, as you stated), was stealing my postage stamps and selling them to Bryant. This they had discovered while "working up" a case not mine. From the same source I learned that many other firms had been victimized in the same manner. I searched the youth and found a sheet of postage stamps. He then admitted having taken stamps before, and said that he had sold them all to the man Bryant. Subsequently I called upon several of the firms said to have suffered, and they corroborated the report and told me that their boys confessed to having found a market for the stamps with Bryant. Thinking it my duty to remove, if possible, this evil influence which was contaminating the boys of my neighborhood, and believing then, as I do now, the case against Luther Bryant to be clear, I caused his arrest after having consulted with the District Attorney.

OBERHARD FABER.

NO. 133 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK, October 19, 1874.

A DANGEROUS BUILDING.

Two Men Hurt By a Falling Wall.

John Shea, of No. 57 Classon avenue, Brooklyn, and Peter Tierney, of No. 507 East Thirteenth street, were slightly injured yesterday afternoon by the falling of part of a side wall of the one-story building, No. 326 West Fortieth street. Both men were engaged with others in pulling down the structure, and they were standing on the rear wall, breaking away, when the part of the side wall against the adjoining house and running from the rear towards the street suddenly tumbled down. Being taken completely by surprise, and no means of escape within their reach, the laborers caught the full force of the descending bricks, but, by a lucky chance, saved their lives. The front entrance to the stable admitted directly from the street, and close beside the building is an alley way leading to the tenement houses in the rear. Between the rear wall of the stables and the tenement houses was an open space serving as a yard, and into this space the greater part of the wall fell. The tenement houses are thickly populated, and the danger to the children and women living in them from such an accident may be easily conceived. Some time since No. 326 was occupied as a blacksmith shop, and afterwards as a stable, but lately it has been vacant. The property belongs to Lyons & Bunn, of East Twenty-ninth street, and it was being taken down to make way for a more pretentious building. When the police were notified of the occurrence they telegraphed for an ambulance, and the injured men were removed to Bellevue Hospital.

UDDERZOOK'S STATEMENT.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Oct. 19, 1874.

W. E. Udderzook, in a statement to the public to-day, declares his innocence. He emphatically states that the parties in Baltimore, charged with a knowledge of the conspiracy, are guiltless. He forgives every one.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

A Dull and Unsuggestive Day Among the Stocks.

PRICES NOT IMPROVING.

Money Easy and Abundant and Gold 110.

WALL STREET, MONDAY, Oct. 19—6 P. M.

It was the same old ringing of the chimes. The tune is unchanged, and there is not a new note to be added to the song that has been sung for the last week. The market to-day was entirely local in character, and not enough commissions were earned on outside business to pay clerk hire. Members of firms who are travelling West and South for the purpose of making personal observations and to induce trade send back gloomy accounts of the commercial situation, and give no sign from which the street can take encouragement. It is needless to add that the tone of the speculation, except in so far as it applies to one or two stocks, is bearish, and that even the most sanguine among operators are beginning to yield to the logic of events. Depression, however, cannot exist always or continuously, and in spite of the natural causes at work to produce a shrinkage of values it will be strange if there are not sharp fluctuations and moderate profits on frequent reactions. The control of the market is said to be less in the hands of individuals than for many months, and the reason assigned is that the market is so inherently weak that a few hundred shares in any stock bought or sold serves to demoralize holders to a degree that leads to a general footrace to reach the stake-post first. It is not a situation which affords premises for argument or prediction. At the present moment even a day may suffice to create demoralization because of the extreme sensitiveness existing on both sides.

THE COURSE OF THE MARKET

was not indicative of much interest. The opening was generally at a fraction lower than the close on Saturday. Union Pacific declined from 35 to 34⅛. Erie moved from 29 to 30⅛ and closed at 30. Lake Shore sold at 78⅞ a 79⅛ a 79. Pacific Mail opened and closed at 46⅝. Western Union sold at 79½ a 79⅞ a 79⅜ a 79⅛. Wabash opened at 32, moved to 32⅛, down to 31⅝ and closed at 31⅝. Northwest common ranged from 38⅜ to 37⅞ and closed at 38. St. Paul was steady at 33. The highest of Ohio and Mississippi was 28⅛, the lowest 27¾ and the close 27⅞. The leading features were Erie, Lake Shore, Union Pacific, Western Union, Northwest, Ohio and Mississippi and Wabash.

THE TRANSACTIONS

on the Stock Exchange amounted to 180,000 shares, which were distributed among the principal stocks as follows:—New York Central, 860; Erie, 40,000; Lake Shore, 45,000; Cleveland and Pittsburg, 400; Northwestern, 3,900; Northwestern preferred, 100; Rock Island, 1,500; Pacific Mail, 14,000; St. Paul, 200; Ohios, 5,700; Western Union, 29,000; Wabash, 3,800; Union Pacific, 29,600; C., C. and I. C., 300; Panama, 100.

THE GOLD MARKET.

In gold all the transactions of the day were on the basis of 110. The rates paid for borrowing were 2, 3, 4 and 1-64 per cent. Late in the day 2 per cent was paid for carrying. The day's business at the Gold Exchange Bank covered:—

Gold cleared	$22,489,000
Gold balances	2,281,050
Currency balances	2,521,592

CLEARING HOUSE STATEMENT.

Currency exchanges	$83,582,194
Currency balances	3,271,805
Gold exchanges	11,366,811
Gold balances	1,405,612

THE MONEY MARKET

was without change. The ruling rate for balances lent on demand was 3 per cent. Prime short acceptances call for 5 and 6 per cent, and three and four months' paper rules at 6 and 7 per cent. Commercial bills, and indeed all others, are carefully scrutinized, and for these the market is hard. The tendency is said to be toward higher figures. Foreign exchange closed quiet and firm at 4.84½ a 4.84¾ for bankers' sixty-day sterling and 4.88 a 4.88¼ for demand.

THE UNITED STATES TREASURY.

The Treasury begins to-morrow the prepayment, with five days' rebate, of the November interest on the public debt. It is said that the larger portion of the May and November coupons is held abroad. If this be the case, and the Rothschild-Seligman syndicate purchase and turn them into the Treasury on their 5 per cent bond contract, it is possible that less disbursements will be made by the government on the November interest than formerly. The internal revenue receipts to-day were $537,939. The customs receipts were $295,000. The Treasury to-day received $135,000 bank notes for redemption. The Assistant Treasurer paid out $12,000 in coin interest, and redeemed $1,000 in called bonds. The Treasury balances were as follows:—Currency, $14,000,000; coin, $79,500,000; less coin certificates, $23,780,000.

GOVERNMENT BONDS.

Business in this department to-day was well sustained and the prices show an undiminished desire on the part of investors to possess these desirable securities. The closing figures were as follows:—United States currency sixes, 118 a 118¼; do. sixes, 1881, registered, 117⅞ a 118; do. do., 1881, 118½ a 118⅝; do. five-twenties, 1862, registered, 109½ a 110; do. do., coupon, 113 a 113⅛; do. do., 1864, registered, 111¾ a 112¼; do. do., do., coupon, 116⅛ a 116⅜; do. do., 1865, registered, 113 a 113½; do. do., do., coupon, 117 a 117½; do. do., do., new, registered, 116⅛ a 116½; do. do., do., coupon, 116⅜ a 116½; do. do., 1867, registered, 117 a 117½; do. do., do., coupon, 117¾ a 117⅞; do. do., 1868, registered, 117¼ a 117¾; do. do., do., coupon, 117⅜ a 117⅞; do. ten-forties, registered, 111⅝ a 111¾; do. do., coupon, 112 a 112¼; do. fives, 1881, registered, 111 a 111½; do. do., do., coupon, 112¼ a 112½.

THE FOREIGN MARKET.

London advices state that £211,000 were to-day withdrawn from the Bank of England. This would seem to indicate an active movement for money in France and Germany, both of which countries are known to be working against "the banker of the world," in consequence of the crop and other monetary demands. Our bonds, however, were a shade firmer than on Saturday. Erie opened at 26⅞, and closed at 27⅛. This was done on the report that the London Banking Association had honored the draft of the company presented by the Barings for £500,000. The following were the late prices:—Consols for money, 92½ a 92⅝; do. for account, 92⅝ a 92¾; five-twenty bonds of 1865, 105¼ a 105⅝; five-twenty bonds of 1867, 109 a 109¼; ten-forty bonds, 103⅞ a 104; new fives, 103⅝ a 103⅞; Erie Railway shares, 27⅛. Consols and American securities dull. Paris despatches quote rentes at 62f. 5c.

RAILROAD BONDS.

In these the business was moderate and chiefly confined to the leading roads heretofore quoted. Prices were steady, except in the case of Chicago and Milwaukee firsts, which declined from 94 to 93. Morris and Essex firsts sold at 109, Morris and Essex sevens of 1871 at 98, New York Central sixes of 1883 at 97⅛, Central Pacifics at 92⅜ a 92½ and Union Pacific land grants at 86. Central Pacific bonds closed at 92⅛ a 92⅞, and Union Pacifics at 88⅛ a 88⅜ for firsts, 85⅞ a 86 for land grants and 90⅛ a 91 for sinking funds.

SOUTHERN BONDS

were without feature. Virginia sixes deferred sold at 9 and Missouri sixes, long bonds, at 94⅛ a 94⅜. These were the only transactions. Plain sixes of Missouri closed at 94⅛ bid, old North Carolinas, 21 to 25; new, 12½ bid; special tax, third series, offering at 7, and second at 8; old South Carolinas closed at 20 bid and the July and April series, 15 bid; old and new Tennessees closed at 67 bid: old ex coupon, 51⅛ a 55; new, 51 a 55, and new series, 51⅛ bid; old Virginias are 33 bid; new, 33 bid, and consols, 52⅛ a 53⅛; deferred offering at 9⅛.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

Cotton Quiet—Flour Steady—Wheat Firmer—Corn Heavy—Oats Firmer—Pork and Lard Easier—Groceries Firm—Freights Steady—Petroleum Inactive and Unchanged—Naval Stores Dull and Nominal—Whiskey Steady.

MONDAY, Oct. 19—6 P. M.

The market was still irregular, but there was but little movement in merchandise. On 'Change flour ruled steady, under a fair inquiry for export. Wheat was the turn dearer, but business was checked in consequence. The transactions, nevertheless, presented a fair footing, and the market closed firm. Corn closed dull and heavy, with only a small business done. Oats were in request and firmer. Whiskey was steady. The hay product was almost entirely nominal, and scarcely any business was consummated. Freights were quiet, but strong. Cotton opened firmer for immediate delivery, but closed quiet at Saturday's figures. "Futures" were 1-16c. better with a moderate business. Groceries met with a moderate trade and were firm. Petroleum was neglected and slightly easier. Naval stores were dull and nominal.

COFFEE.—The market for Rio ruled very strong, under light supplies and a good inquiry. We note further sales of 1,362 bags ex Isabella and 3,049 bags ex Waldimar, at Hampton roads to come here, both on private terms. We have no change to note in mild coffee; the demand has been moderate and of a jobbing character. We quote:—Rio, ordinary cargoes, 15⅞c. a 16c.; fair do., 17⅛c. a 17⅜c.; good do., 19c. a 19⅛c.; prime do., 20c. a 20⅛c.; extreme range for lots, 15⅞c. a 21c.; Java, government bags, 22c. a 26c.; do., grass mats, 22c. a 27c.; Ceylon, 17c. a 19⅛c.; Maracaibo, 16c. a 19c.; Laguayra, 17⅛c. a 19c.; Jamaica, 16c. a 18c.; St. Domingo, 15c. a 16c.; Porto Rico, 16c. a 18⅛c.; Costa Rica, 16c. a 19⅛c.; Mexican, 18c. a 19c.; Angostura, 17c. a 19c.; Savanilla, 15c. a 19c.; Curacoa, 15⅛c. a 17c., gold, 60 and 90 days.

COTTON.—The market for cotton on the spot was quiet. At the opening holders were firmer in their views and demanded higher prices, but buyers failed to respond, and at the close holders were willing to sell at quotations. "Futures" closed at an advance of 1-16c. We quote:—

FREIGHTS.—The inquiry for berth accommodations was fair, and with but a moderate supply of room available rates were firm. UNITED STATES WATCH COMPANY.

The Concern in Bankruptcy and To Be Sold at Auction.

Judge Dixon, of the United States Court at Trenton, N. J., having decided that the United States Watch Company, at Marion, N. J., was in bankruptcy, and an assignee having been appointed to take charge of the property, the company's building, property and interest in the entire business will be sold at public auction early in November. There has been considerable wrangling between the stockholders over this matter, but it would seem that the majority of the shareholders desired to put the concern in bankruptcy, while a minority were opposed to such a step. The minority allege that Giles, Wales & Co., who had the controlling interest in the concern, have been anxious to oust many of the old stockholders and form a new company, while on the other side it is asserted that for a year past Giles, Wales & Co. have been obliged to carry the concern, and that during the year but a trifling business has been done, so little, indeed, that bankruptcy became inevitable. It is charged also that there was some collusion between the directors and others, whose notes were not taken up by the company for the forty days specified by law and that Judge Dixon's opinion was stretched to the very extreme of the legal point involved, while, on the other hand, it is asserted that with the law plain before him and the petition of 5,000 shares against 1,500 defying the interpretation that collusion could have been practised no other deduction but the simple meaning of the law could have been arrived at. The property is a very large one. The working men are owed quite a large amount of money. The largest creditors are Giles, Wales & Co., who, it is said, together with the petitioning stockholders, will buy in the property, and start a new company on a firm basis.

KILLED HIS PLAYMATE.

About half-past three o'clock yesterday afternoon Joseph Hennessy, a little boy five years of age, who lived with his parents at No. 18 Roosevelt street, was shot and killed. It appeared that while deceased was standing in the hallway of his residence another boy whose name is said to be Michael Kearns came up and, presenting a pistol, said, "Now it is life or death between us," discharged the pistol, the contents taking effect in his breast, inflicting a wound from which death speedily ensued. As far as known there had been no quarrel and consequently no ill-feeling between the boys, from which fact it is supposed by many that the boy Kearns was not aware of the pistol being loaded. Michael was arrested by Officer Musgrove, of the Fourth precinct, and detained in the Oak street police station to await the result of an investigation before Coroner Woltman.

The accused, who is thirteen years of age, lives at No. 14 Roosevelt street.

M.

THE COURTS.

Record of Tweed's Conviction—Motion to Amend Denied.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY SUIT.

Action Against the City—Lost Vouchers.

Yesterday, in the United States Circuit Court, the trial of John W. Cary, first mate of the American ship Sovereign of the Seas, was resumed. The prisoner was charged with having inflicted cruel and unusual punishment on an Italian sailor, one of his crew. The evidence having closed, the jury rendered a verdict of guilty, but without malice. Judge Blatchford told them that they must find the prisoner either guilty or not guilty. They again retired and soon after returned with a verdict of guilty. Prisoner was remanded for sentence.

A suit has been commenced in the United States Circuit Court by G. L. Kouns, of New Orleans, against Otis N. Cutler, as one of the Treasury agents of the United States, to recover a sum of $30,777 alleged to have been paid, under protest, for leave to land a cargo of cotton at New Orleans, in the month of June, 1865. The payment of this amount was demanded under a special regulation of the Treasury Department having reference to the products of rebellious States. This case is brought as a test to determine the legality or the illegality of the special regulation adverted to, and also to ascertain if the government has a right to retain several millions of dollars stated to have been paid in cases like that now instituted by the plaintiff.

TWEED'S CONVICTION.

On the motion argued several days since in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judge Brady, to change the record of William M. Tweed's conviction, on the ground that the same was not in accordance with the verdict of the jury, a decision was given yesterday by Judge Brady. It will be seen that he demolishes whatever hopes the ex-"Boss" may have had of thus shortening the period of his imprisonment. The decision was embodied in the following written opinion:—

OPINION OF JUDGE BRADY.

I deem it necessary only to state briefly the following answers to the motion made to correct the record:—1. It is the duty of the Clerk of Oyer and Terminer, whenever a judgment upon any conviction shall be rendered, to enter such judgment fully on his minutes, stating briefly the offence for which such conviction shall have been had. 2. It is the duty of the District Attorney, upon being required by the Clerk, to prepare for him a statement of the offence of which any person shall be convicted as the same is charged in the indictment to be entered on the minutes of the clerk; but it is declared by the statute that the Court shall inspect such entries made by the clerk and conform them to the facts, and shall inspect the statement made by the District Attorney for the clerk and conform it to the indictment (3 R. S., 1,031, par. 5, 6). It is also further provided that a copy of the minutes of conviction, with the sentence of the Court thereon, duly certified by the clerk, in whose custody such minutes shall be, together with a copy of the indictment on which such conviction shall have been had, testified in the same manner, shall be evidence in all courts and places of such conviction in all cases in which it shall appear by the certificate of the clerk or otherwise that no record of the judgment on such conviction has been signed and filed (3 R. S., 1,032, sec. 12). It thus appears that the entry on the minutes is subject to the inspection and correction of the Court, to be exercised according to the facts and the indictment. The act is that of a court, and not of a judge, eo nomine, presiding therein. There can be no well founded doubt that this power of correction may be exercised by the Court when making up or supervising the record. That document is a full, formal and solemn account of the charge, judgment and sentence. It must be signed by a judge of the court, and when completed imports absolute verity (Weed vs. People, 31 N. Y. Rep., 465). It becomes the superior element. The minutes, as we have seen, are no longer proof. It is then the evidence of conviction and sentence. The record having been made up and signed by the Justice of the court presiding therein at the time of the trial and under the supervision of the Court therefor, cannot be controlled by the minutes of the Clerk, which are subordinate to it. It is unnecessary to consider, for this reason, whether there is any substantial difference between them. 3. If these views be incorrect, there is still a fatal answer to the motion. The accuracy of the statements in the record, which the defendant seeks now to change, was the subject of a discussion before the Court, settling the form and substance of the record, and is, so far as the Court of Oyer and Terminer has any power over the matter, res adjudicata and binding. For these reasons, thus briefly stated, the motion must be denied.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY SUIT.

Henry Day Loder vs. the New York, Utica and Ogdensburg Railroad Company.—At a special term of the Supreme Court, on the 12th inst., a motion was made in this case by Mr. John A. Wright, counsel for the plaintiff, to sequestrate the property of the defendant, and for the appointment of a receiver. The plaintiff read affidavits going to show that various unsatisfied judgments existed against the railroad company. The case came up yesterday in the Supreme Court before Judge Donohue. Mr. Fowler, of counsel for defendant, opposed the motion, claiming that the company was amply able to pay the judgments, and alleging that the late President of the company had allowed these judgments to be taken by default against the company without informing the directors of the commencement of the suits. After full argument upon the legal merits Judge Donohue yesterday morning allowed counsel for the plaintiff an order for a receiver, pendente lite. The order was regularly settled by the Judge sitting in Part 3. William H. Newman was appointed receiver. Counsel for the plaintiff, Mr. John A. Wright; for defendant, Mr. A. S. Sullivan and Mr. Fowler.

MORE VOUCHERS LOST.

A suit is pending against the city to recover $1,032 27 for coal delivered to the city in May last by George John F. Barnard. As a defence the city sets up that between June, 1868, and February, 1870, the city paid to Mr Barnard $90,000 for coal which was not furnished. Mr. Barnard's counsel therefore demanded a bill of particulars, giving the items of the alleged fraudulent payments, the dates of the warrants and the apartments to which the coal is alleged not to have been delivered. An order was granted by the Superior Court, directing such bill to be furnished within ten days or plaintiff to have permission to move that the city be debarred from giving testimony at the trial as to the truth of the allegations in their answer. The bill of particulars was not furnished as ordered, and the matter came up yesterday in the Superior Court, Chambers, before Judge Curtis, on a motion for the order of prohibition. Mr. Carter, on behalf of the city, said that there were some vouchers lost, and that the city could not now give complete data, but would give all the particulars in its possession. Mr. Wingate, in opposition, urged that if the city could not give the particulars at once it ought to be debarred from furnishing testimony at the trial to sustain the allegations of fraudulent payment. Judge Curtis allowed the matter to stand over for ten days to enable the city to put up the best bill of particulars it could.

MARINE COURT—PART 1.

Actions for Labor.

Before Judge Alker.

Cullen vs. Driggs.—The plaintiff claims to have made a contract with defendant's engineer by which he was to receive $8 per acre for merely cutting and stacking hay on seventy-five acres of Newark meadow land. He admits payment of $510, and sues for $90. The defence is that the contract was not only to cut the hay, but to pile it upon hurdles two feet above the surface of the meadow, and that by reason of plaintiff failing in this, the hay, valued at $2,000, was overflowed and rendered entirely valueless. Verdict for defendant.

Setti vs. Hough.—The plaintiff, an Italian laborer, sues the defendant, a contractor, to recover forty-seven and a half days' labor which he swears he performed for him in digging upon the boulevards, unloading stone, &c. The defendant swore not only that he never employed the plaintiff, but that he never saw him in his life, adding that he had a twin brother for whom the work might have been done. The plaintiff and one of his witnesses, however, being very positive as to defendant's identity, the jury rendered a verdict in plaintiff's favor for the full amount claimed.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

A Hotel Thief Sentenced.

Before Recorder Hackett.

District Attorney Phelps prosecuted in this Court yesterday.

The first case tried by the jury was an indictment against George Rice, who was convicted of an attempt at burglary in the second degree. Carsten Hencken, who keeps a hotel in Fulton street, testified that on the 9th of this month the prisoner hired a room, and ten minutes afterward he caught him in the act of trying to enter a room opposite the one assigned to him. When an officer was called in he searched the prisoner's valise and found a bunch of keys. Rice, who was genteelly dressed, told a very plausible story, but so evidently false that the jury rendered a verdict of guilty without leaving their seats. His Honor the Recorder sentenced him to the State Prison for five years.

An Old German Woman Convicted of Abducting a Child.

Margaret Yaeger, an old German woman, was convicted of the offence of abduction. The testimony for the prosecution was that, on the evening of the 10th of this month, about half-past seven o'clock, a little boy, three years old, named Jesse H. Roach, whose parents live at No. 262 Madison street, was playing near the door, when the prisoner came along and took him in her arms. The other children who were around gave the alarm, and Mrs. Roach came and took her little son out of the prisoner's arms. The accused swore that she had been drinking a few glasses of beer, and did not mean to take the child away; that she had a sick husband and three small children. His Honor remanded the old woman, in order that an investigation into her statement might be made.

Burglaries and Larcenies.

Timothy Ganey, who was indicted for robbery, pleaded guilty to petit larceny from the person, the charge being that on the 3d of this month he stole a silver watch worth $20 from Dagan O'Leary while walking in Dover street.

Thomas Donovan was convicted of stealing $1 from the person of Henry Conrad on the night of October 4 while he was passing through West street.

William Williams, a colored waiter, who was caught by John B. Trainer in his residence No. 107 West Twenty-eighth street, on the afternoon of the 3d of September last, was convicted of burglary in the third degree.

The above named prisoners were each sent to the State Prison for five years.

Catharine Lowe and Emma Wilson (colored) were tried and convicted of stealing a silver watch from Aloys Danbacher on the 28th of September while passing through Thompson street. These prisoners were sent to the State Prison for three years.

John Callahan pleaded guilty to petit larceny from the person, the indictment charging him with stealing a pocketbook containing $3 50 from Margaret Cassidy. He was sent to the State Prison for four years and six months.

William Orr, who on the 27th of September stole two gold watch cases worth $100 and ten dozen of studs worth $20, which were in a package in charge of the American Express Company, pleaded guilty to an attempt at grand larceny.

Daniel Kiernan pleaded guilty to stealing on the 4th inst. a watch and chain worth $11 from the person of Albert Bauman.

These prisoners were each sent to the State Prison for two years and six months.

Forgery.

Thomas H. Cochran, charged with the crime of forgery in the third degree, pleaded guilty to the fourth grade of that offence. On the 12th of September he forged a check for $484 upon the National Bank of Brooklyn. The punishment inflicted was imprisonment in the State Prison for two years.

Philip Schwarz pleaded guilty to an attempt at grand larceny, the allegation being that on the 8th of September he stole clothing and money valued at $300, owned by John Lafler. He was sent to the Penitentiary for two years.

A Disagreement.

Gustav Rohoff was tried upon a charge of felonious assault, preferred by Peter Huff, who swore that he was stabbed in the side by the accused on the 2d of this month. The evidence was conflicting, which resulted in the disagreement of the jury. Mr. Phelps consented to the discharge of the defendant.

Sentences.

The following named prisoners, who were tried last week, were arraigned for sentence:—

Herman Winters, convicted of petit larceny from the person, was sent to the State Prison for three years.

William Helems, who pleaded guilty to an attempt at grand larceny, was sent to the State Prison for two years and six months.

John Jennings, convicted of grand larceny, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the State Prison.

JEFFERSON MARKET POLICE COURT.

A Heavy Haul.

Before Judge Flammer.

Mrs. Louisa Miller is a widow lady, and occupies the third floor of the dwelling No. 69 West Twenty-third street. She was engaged at work in the front room of her suit of apartments yesterday when accident called her to her bedroom in the rear. To her intense dismay she found two men, who had entered so noiselessly that their presence was not even suspected, busily engaged in the work of plunder. She gave the alarm as quickly as her terror permitted, and the intruders fled. They would have escaped but for the promptitude of Mr. James M. Gale, a real estate agent in the lower part of the house, who started in pursuit. He tracked the burglars, without attracting their attention to himself, as far as the corner of Twenty-fourth street and Seventh avenue, where he met Officer Kelly, of the Twenty-ninth precinct. At this point the burglars endeavored to jump on a car. The officer followed them and seized one John Lawrence, who struggled hard to escape, but was held. On his person was found $1,700 worth of jewelry, the property of Mrs. Miller. Judge Flammer held him in $3,000 bail to answer.

Burglars Arrested.

Thomas Collins and Francis Connolly broke into the premises of James McCandless at No. 441 West Forty-first street on Sunday night and carried off $35 worth of silverplated ware. Officer Biglin, of the Twentieth precinct, meeting them with a bundle, suspected their character and took them into custody. Investigation disclosed the fact that the bundle contained the proceeds of the burglary. They were each held in $2,000 to answer.

ESSEX MARKET POLICE COURT.

Before Judge Wandell.

Helena Wurzberger, of No. 199 Stanton street, placed $120 in her bureau drawer. James M. Black, a boy of eighteen, was the only person present. Yesterday she missed the money and caused Black's arrest. Judge Wandell held him in $1,000 to answer.

FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET POLICE COURT.

Before Judge Murray.

The Rev. Duke Ormsby appeared in court yesterday to answer the charge of assault and battery preferred against him by Kate O'Connell, a domestic in his house. In addition to her former complaint of being beaten and kicked by the defendant she also charged that he had bitten her on the back of the left hand, and exhibited to the Court two red spots, as alleged, where the wounds caused by the reverend gentleman's teeth had healed. Two young ladies, who had been involuntary witnesses of the tussle, corroborated Kate's statement in all particulars except the biting. Of that they noticed nothing; but each of them swore that the reverend gentleman kicked the complainant while lying prostrate and stunned in the areaway.

Mr. Ormsby admitted that he may have struck her once, but that was only to save himself from being struck with a hatchet by the complainant. He, however, solemnly called God to witness that he neither kicked her nor bit her. Mrs. Frost, his mother-in-law, testified that she saw the whole affair and was positive that the defendant raised his hand to strike a blow but once, and that was when she and Mrs. Ormsby went to his assistance and saved him from being struck with the hatchet by the complainant.

Kate was the servant of a lady who had apartments in the house, and the trouble was the result of a difference between Mrs. Frost and this lady. Mr. Ormsby was held for trial in $500 bail, and, as he remarked, for obvious reasons he elected to be tried at the General Sessions. In her first complaint Kate made no mention of having been bitten by the defendant, otherwise the complaint would have been for mayhem.

Dangerous Sword Cane Exercise.

Patrick Judge, aged twenty-two, of No. 116 West Fifty-fourth street, was charged with attempting to stab Louis Bramson, who keeps a dining saloon on the corner of Fourteenth street and Third avenue. Bramson testified that Judge had some refreshments in his place on Sunday night, for which he refused to pay. On threatening to bring the police, Judge drew a sword cane and chased him around his saloon, and made several attempts to run him through. The accused denied the charge, and in turn swore that, being intoxicated, he was robbed of $25 by Bramson, who, to save himself, then caused his arrest on the present trumped up charge.

Karnitzki Held in $6,000 Bail.

Karnitzki, the alleged "receiver," was held in $6,000 bail, the bonds for which were given by Mrs. Lottie Maxwell, of No. 302 West Thirty-seventh street.

THE LATE CHARLES M. KELLER.

Meeting of the Bar—Adjournment of the United States Circuit Court—Speeches of Counsel.

Yesterday Judge Blatchford sat in the United States Circuit Court. There was a large attendance of members of the Bar, it being understood that a motion would be made for the adjournment of the Court in consequence of the death of Mr. Charles M. Keller, who had, perhaps, few equals in the profession as a patent lawyer.

After Judge Blatchford had taken his seat on the bench he made a short announcement with regard to the business of the Court, which would be taken up in the present week by Judges Woodruff and Shipman. Subjoined we give a report of the proceedings in relation to the death of Mr. Keller.

REMARKS OF MR. E. N. DICKERSON.

Mr. E. N. Dickerson announced to the Court the death of a distinguished member of the Bar, Mr. Charles M. Keller, and moved that the Court, without transacting any business, do now adjourn out of respect to the memory of Mr. Keller, and that an entry of the cause of this adjournment be made upon the minutes of the Court by the clerk. In making this motion Mr. Dickerson eloquently descanted upon the merits of Mr. Keller as an able and learned lawyer, an honest man and an upright citizen. He said it was with sincere sorrow that he made the announcement of the death of Mr. Keller, who was cherished by innumerable friends, surrounded by a loving family and respected by all the members of the Bar to whom he was long known and by whom he was revered and loved. Many friends mourned his death, and his loss to the Bar was perhaps one that could never again be replaced. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Dickerson read a letter from Mr. Causten Brown, of Boston, an old friend and legal associate of Mr. Keller. This letter was to the effect that Mr. Brown knew Mr. Keller for more than twenty years, and that his loss to him was the loss of a very dear friend. Mr. Keller (continued Mr. Dickerson) was one of those lawyers who, even at the risk of his health, looked after the interests and defended the rights of his clients.

REMARKS OF MR. GEORGE GIFFORD.

I knew Mr. Keller long and I knew him well, both in a social and in a business capacity. His principles were of the purest kind and of the highest order. I was with him in many litigations as a colleague and in many as an opponent. I was often with him in consultations, sometimes both of us being for the same party and sometimes representing opposing parties, and in all cases and under all circumstances I found the love of truth, justice and honesty to predominate in his mind. It was his habit to discourage litigation. Mr. Keller conducted many litigations, but I have no doubt but that his good and timely advice prevented far more than he conducted. In the practice of his profession he had great aversion to technicalities and he utterly despised all those petty catches and advantages with which some lawyers embarrass each other at the expense of their clients and without benefit to any one, and which go to make up what is known as "sharp practice." He had a natural hatred of barrators and tricksters, regarding them as nuisances to the profession and as a curse to the community. To those members of the Bar who make patent law a specialty, I will add that death has not only broken our ranks, but is thinning them. Within a few months three of our most prominent members have been taken away—Judge Curtis, of Boston; Colonel Fisher, of Cincinnati, and Mr. Keller, of New York, have gone in rapid succession. These are loud reminders of the certainty of coming death and of the uncertainty of the time of its arrival.

REMARKS BY MR. GEORGE T. CURTIS.

Mr. George Ticknor Curtis was the next speaker. He said that Mr. Keller was a man who stood high and distinguished in his profession. He was a man of ability and honesty. He was eminently just and fair in the practice of his profession. One might be very loose in following the strict rules of practice without any advantage being taken of it by Mr. Keller, who was a man of large, catholic and generous nature. The equanimity of his temper was remarkable, and his readiness to recognize the rights, powers and duties of others won the approval of all with whom he came in contact. The practice of taking notice of the death of members of the Bar was, he believed, a salutary one, because he hoped there were few among them so insensible to the blessing of a good name who when they contemplated their own death would not like to obtain some of the praise that followed a well spent life.

REMARKS BY MR. E. W. STOUGHTON.

Mr. E. W. Stoughton also spoke and, in the course of his remarks, paid a well deserved tribute to the excellent qualities and sterling integrity of Mr. Keller, who held a very large place in the practice of his profession and in one of the great departments of the law administered in this Court. He (Mr. Stoughton) had been associated in many cases with Mr. Keller and had been in many against him; but, whether with him or against him, he found that Mr. Keller always brought to his aid vast knowledge, untiring industry, splendid capacity and sterling honor.

REMARKS BY MR. WETMORE.

Mr. E. Wetmore, in an eloquent address, eulogized the virtues and praised the eminent qualities of Mr. Keller as a citizen and a lawyer.

REMARKS BY JUDGE BLATCHFORD.

Judge Blatchford said:—So much has been said, and well said, by the gentlemen who have spoken that I can add but few words in sympathy with the observations that have been made. Mr. Keller was my personal friend. I was long associated with him at the Bar, and was on terms of intimate friendship with him. I learned, as all his brethren at the Bar have learned, to regard him as possessing all those qualities that belong to a great and good lawyer—fidelity and conscientiousness towards his clients. His judgment was very sound, and he never suffered it to be led away by zeal in the cause of his clients. His clients could rely upon his judgment, which was always as severe as a judicial judgment on the merits of the case, and if his client had a bad case he frankly and fearlessly pointed out the fact to him. That I consider one of Mr. Keller's great qualities in that one branch of the law in which he distinguished himself. In fidelity to his clients he had no superior. They could always rely upon him, and he was thoroughly conscientious to the Court in the discharge of his legal and professional duties. It has been well said here to-day that when so eminent a person as Mr. Keller passes away we should all pause, not only to pay a tribute to his memory, but take of the lesson taught by the event, and it is fitting, particularly fitting, that, inasmuch as no man can be a member of the Bar without sustaining toward the Court those relations as a member of the Bar which make him what he is, these proceedings in regard to the death of a good member of the profession should take place in court. I regard it as eminently fitting that that should be always so. It has been said that Mr. Keller's death is a great loss to one branch of the profession. It is a loss to the Court, and it is a loss to all who had an interest in this class of business; it is a loss to his brethren of the Bar.

The Judge concluded by granting the motion for the adjournment of the Court and directing the clerk to enter the cause of the adjournment on the minutes.

EXTRA JUDICIAL DIGNITY.

A Cruel Case of Contempt of Court.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

On Saturday, at the Sixth Judicial District Court, Justice Lane, for contempt of Court, sentenced to five days' imprisonment and a fine of $5 a lad about thirteen years old, who had been only eight days in this country, under the following peculiar circumstances:—In August the case of McCabe vs. The Laborers' Protective Union was brought up for adjudication before Judge Lane, and it appears he dismissed the case without trial, although counsel for plaintiff was in court and ready to proceed with the cause. An appeal to the Court of Common Pleas was then and there entered, and $2, the legal cost of a return, given the Judge. The usual time for making the return having expired, plaintiff's counsel several times notified Justice Lane to make return, and he having neglected to do so, and stenographers' fees being required, an order from Judge Robinson, of the Court of Common Pleas, was obtained to compel him to do so. The document was confided to the little fellow to serve on Judge Lane, with instructions to hand it to him before Court opened. On his arriving at the Court the marshals would not let him in until business was going on. He then proceeded up to the bench, and on handing in the papers was immediately arrested and the above sentence pronounced.

Not having returned to the boarding house where he was staying with a friend, and he not being acquainted with any other person in the city, a search was instituted for him. After visiting the Morgue, several police stations and for a second time the Central Police Office, it was eventually suggested that he might have been arrested on a civil process and sent to Ludlow Street Jail. On going there next morning (Sunday) his friend's mind was relieved by learning the above facts, and the little fellow—who was unaware whether it was for a day, a year or a lifetime he was to be confined—was somewhat pacified and reconciled to his fate. He then confided to his friend the sworn statement of the facts. The Supreme Court Judge has issued a writ of habeas corpus for his discharge. Respectfully,

D. R. O'SULLIVAN.

THE GLENDENNING TRIAL.

Testimony as to Mary Pomeroy's Character—Why the Bastardy Suit Was Discontinued.

The trial of Rev. John S. Glendenning was continued at the Prospect avenue church yesterday before the Jersey City Presbytery. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Magee, of Paterson.

Mr. Randall was the first witness. He testified that he went, in company with Mr. Northrup, to Mr. Miller's house on the night of Mr. Glendenning's arrest; Mr. Hallowell accompanied Mr. Glendenning; Mr. Northrup told Mr. Glendenning he was sorry to see him in such a position; Mr. Glendenning laughed, and said that Mr. Northrup would find it serious for himself before he got through with it; witness then described the scene previously detailed by Mr. Miller, and continued:—Mr. Miller said he would not permit any questions to be asked of Miss Pomeroy; Mr. Hallowell asked Miss Pomeroy if she did solemnly swear that Mr. Glendenning was the father of her child; the question was repeated three or four times without an answer; Mr. Miller asked Mr. Glendenning if he would marry the girl; he answered that he could not, under present circumstances; Mr. Miller then asked him what business he had sneaking into his house at all hours of the night; Mr. Glendenning replied that he would explain all that at the proper time; I am a member of the congregation of this church; Miss Pomeroy's character was unexceptionable; never heard a word against her in my life; she was a frequent visitor at my house.

Justice Aldridge was recalled. The Moderator here announced that no person, male or female, under twenty-one years of age would be permitted in the church during this trial. In answer to counsel for the prosecution witness said:—It was my own idea that the dying statement of Miss Pomeroy should be sworn to, for she expressed no desire on the subject; Mr. Gordon asked Mr. Glendenning on the night of the arrest why he did not speak of this matter before; Mr. Glendenning answered, "On her account."

On cross-examination the witness said:—The bastardy suit against Mr. Glendenning was discontinued because the bondsman (Mr. Gordon) asked to have the case attended to or that he be released from his bond; the Overseer of the Poor, Mr. Dudley, came to me and asked that the proceedings be discontinued because the child was not chargeable to the city, inasmuch as no application for maintenance had been made; the Overseer of the Poor came to me and told me that as the mother had died no application had been made to the city for the support of the child; he, therefore, had no further ground of action against Mr. Glendenning; when Miss Pomeroy was making her dying statement she was as calm and composed as Mr. Dodd (counsel for defence) would be if he were going to leave this world; it seemed as if the candle were going out; she could not sign her name; she might have made her mark; I wanted to have her mark there so that people could not question it; there was not the slightest appearance of excitement.

BOARD OF APPORTIONMENT.

A meeting of the Board of Apportionment was held yesterday at the Comptroller's office, Mayor Havemeyer in the chair. Resolutions recommending the following transfers were made:—The sum of $83 33, from the appropriation of the salaries of the Department of Taxes and Assessments to the salaries of the Department of the Assessors; $5,000, from the appropriation of lamps and gas to the heating of offices and buildings for the county for 1874; $10,000, from various departments to the contingencies of the Law Department; $1,260 59, from different accounts in 1872 to the account for printing and engraving bonds and certificates; $1,005 83, to be transferred from appropriation to Coroners' Office of 1872 to the appropriation for Coroners' Office in 1873.

THE TAX LEVY.

Commissioner WHEELER submitted the estimates of the departments and list of officers for the city in printed form, copies of which were distributed among the members of the Board.

Comptroller GREEN moved their consideration, if not at once, at some early day to be named by the Board.

The MAYOR said that this was the first that he had seen of the estimates. He should like a little time to look them over.

Alderman VANCE moved that the Board adjourn to Wednesday next at two o'clock, for the consideration of the tax levy.

The resolution was adopted, and the Board adjourned.

BOARD OF ASSISTANT ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of this Board was held yesterday afternoon, the President, Mr. Joseph P. Strack, in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

An ordinance proposed last summer to prevent dust from flying while buildings are in course of construction was adopted by a vote of 11 to 3.

A motion that the ordinance "prohibiting goats from running at large" be repealed was defeated. Assistant Alderman Kelly wanted to hear the resolution read a second time, which was done, whereupon he said that he had no doubt this was done to have democratic posters eaten up, and he would therefore vote "No."

There being an insufficient number of members present to pass any general orders the Board adjourned.

COMMISSIONERS OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTION.

Election of a New President.

Since last May William Laimbeer, the first President of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction, has held over because whenever the subject of an election was broached no understanding could be arrived at among the "triumvirate." The old President thus retained the dignity of the office and $125 additional salary per month. This state of affairs, however, was ended yesterday by the resignation of Mr. Laimbeer as President, on which he at once offered a resolution nominating General James Bowen for President of the Board for the present term, ending May 1, 1875, which was carried by the votes of Commissioners William Laimbeer and Meyer Stern—the candidate being too modest to vote for himself.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.

Mayor Havemeyer will reappoint on the third Wednesday in November the following gentlemen as School Commissioners:—David F. Baker, David Wetmore, William H. Neilson, Ferdinand Trand, Henry P. West, John Crosby Brown and Jacob D. Vermilye.

SUPPRESSING MOCK AUCTIONS.

A number of jewellers doing business on the line of Grand street called upon His Honor the Mayor and informed him that their business is injured by the sale of bogus and worthless jewelry disposed of nightly on that street by a number of mock auctioneers, whose flaming signs and glib-tongued blandishments induce a large number of persons to invest in this worthless trash. Mayor Havemeyer listened very patiently to the complainants, promised them protection and instructed Captain James Leary, in command of the Ordinance Police, to suppress these mock auction shops at once.

TRIPLE SHEET.

New York, Tuesday, October 20, 1874.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Owing to the great pressure on our advertising columns, advertisers would favor us by sending in their advertisements early in the day. This course will secure a proper classification, helping the public and the HERALD. Advertisements intended for our Sunday issue may be sent with great advantage in the earlier days of the week; it will prevent confusion and mistakes arising from the immense quantity of work to be done on Saturdays. Advertisements will be received daily at this office, the branch office, No. 1,265 Broadway, between Thirty-first and Thirty-second streets, and the Brooklyn branch office, corner of Fulton and Boerum streets, up to nine P. M., and at the Harlem branch office, 124th street and Third avenue, up to half-past seven P. M. Let advertisers remember that the earlier their advertisements are in the HERALD office the better for themselves and for us.

From our reports this morning the probabilities are that the weather to-day will be clear.

WALL STREET YESTERDAY.—The stock market was quiet and without feature. Prices were barely steady. Gold ruled at 110, and money was abundant at 2½ a 3 per cent on call loans.

JUDGE BRADY has denied the motion to amend the record in the case of Tweed, and his reasons will be found in another column.

A MEETING OF THE BAR was held yesterday to take appropriate action upon the death of the venerable Charles M. Keller.

GERMANY, it is reported, has given satisfactory assurances to Denmark that any wrong done by the expulsion of Danes from Schleswig shall be repaired.

WE REPORT the case of a contractor who declined to pay for work performed, on the ground that he had never ordered it. He admitted that his twin brother might have done so. It is singular to see the "Comedy of Errors" in the Marine Court.

THE SAD REPORT comes from Bayonne that Mr. Cecil Buckland, an American journalist in Spain, has been murdered. In company with an Englishman he left Bayonne for Irun, and is supposed to have been shot by the Serrano troops.

THE REVOLUTION in the Argentine Confederation continues to make rapid progress. The insurgents appear to be concentrating their forces, and several war vessels have deserted the navy. The government in vain strives to check the spirit of rebellion.

THE UNITED STATES TROOPS have again been employed in Louisiana in the arrest of thirteen citizens of Minden, charged with complicity in the Coushatta massacre. The accused will be taken to Shreveport for trial, and it is thought this unexpected interference will cause disturbances in the election.

The Third Term Quandary of the Flustered Republicans.

The dictionaries tell us that the word "quandary" is a corruption of the French phrase qu'en dirai-je—what shall I say about it? It implies that a person is what we call nonplussed, being in a perplexity which deprives him of the free use of his faculties. This seems to be the intellectual condition of the republican journals on the third term question since the Western elections. They are at their wits' end to know what to do or say about it. They are suddenly brought to suspect that what they had laughed at as a political toy invented for the public diversion is a dangerous infernal machine which it is neither safe to touch nor to let alone. They wish it were well out of the way, but fear that if they undertake to remove it it will explode in their hands with shattering damage to themselves and their party. The Times frantically advises Governor Dix to pick it up and fling it out at the window; the Albany Journal and Buffalo Commercial Advertiser protest that this is bad advice and that the infernal thing will do more damage if handled than if let alone. The Evening Post declares that if anybody is to take the risk of pitching it into the street that dangerous duty belongs to President Grant, who gave the cue to its inventors. It is the old fable of belling the cat. The whole assembly of rats conceded that it was a very proper thing to be done, but the practical question as to which bold member of the well-tailed fraternity should undertake the feat found no satisfactory solution. Had they been on shipboard they might have verified an old saying about a sinking ship and taken a leap into the water. It is laughable to witness the sudden consternation of the republican press on the third term question since the democratic successes last week.

Perhaps the most remarkable utterance on this subject was that of Congressman Kelley in his speech in Philadelphia on Friday night. His is a very cheery view, like that of a cunning old rat luxuriating in a meal tub, which had been covered against the approaches of the unbelled third term cat. The Pennsylvania republicans, Mr. Kelley thinks, protected themselves by the timely action of their State Convention. We insert some of his consoling sentences:—

It is a mistake to suppose that the causes that overwhelmed the republicans of Ohio and Indiana will operate in this State. They are not in operation here. The third term question hung like a dripping cloud over our friends in both those States. But our sky is clear of that evil omen. Our State Convention, true to the traditions of the country and the convictions of the people, made an emphatic declaration against a third term. While appreciating as highly as ever the pre-eminent services and patriotic purposes of President Grant, I am free to declare that I would vote for no man for a third term, and would rather take the risk of a bad President for four years than assist in overthrowing the wholesome precedent set by Washington, Jefferson and Jackson, of retiring voluntarily from the Presidency at the end of the second term.

We acknowledge both the truth and the picturesque aptness of Mr. Kelley's flight of rhetoric. He is, no doubt, correct in saying, with much poetry and more truth, that "the third term question hung like a dripping cloud over our friends in both those States"—meaning Ohio and Indiana. But we do not quite share his sanguine assurance, "our sky"—meaning the republican sky in Pennsylvania—"is clear of that evil omen." The republicans of Pennsylvania are bound by party ties. They are inside and not outside of the national republican organization. They did well to make their indirect protest against a third term; but if they expected it to have any moral effect they should have uttered it more squarely and boldly. All they did was to express a preference for one of their own citizens as a republican candidate for the Presidency. They could not have seriously expected that citizen's nomination, and if the Convention of 1876 rejects him, as it is quite certain to do, they will be as much bound by the party choice as if they had not put forward a candidate of their own. If the successful candidate should be General Grant for a third time they have done nothing to preclude their giving him their support. They failed to rally the republicans of New York and the other great States in uncompromising opposition to the third term because their lead was so halting and pusillanimous. They dared not break with President Grant by a bold and unequivocal declaration. Had they spoken out as plainly while the thing was yet clear as Mr. Kelley has now, when thunder clouds are closing over it, other republican conventions would have been emboldened by their example, and the third term question would not have "hung like a dripping cloud" over the October elections. The tent of gauze spread by the Pennsylvania Convention cannot protect the republicans of that State against a drenching from the angry November skies. They are as much exposed to its peltings as the republicans of New York, because if Grant should prove a stronger candidate than Hartranft in 1876 they are as much bound to support him as they would be to support Morton or Blaine or Conkling, if either of these gentlemen should get the nomination against Hartranft. All they have done is to express a preference for a citizen of their own State who cannot possibly get the nomination. This binds them to nothing, and leaves them as free to support Grant as to support Blaine.

The republican party is in danger of being engulfed in the third term storm because it has lacked political foresight and courage to put itself in bold opposition to the ill-regulated ambition of the occupant of the Presidential mansion. If the Utica Convention had not cowered under Grant's influence it might have saved the party. If Governor Dix had not felt restrained by the same misguided, shrinking awe of the man in the White House he could have arrested the political revolution and have saved himself and his party. The question which now puts all the republican journals in a flutter is, whether it is or is not too late. The Times thinks it is not; other republican journals differ, and the Times begins to waver. Unless Governor Dix comes to its rescue by adopting its advice to-day or to-morrow it will be compelled to retreat, for it would be ridiculous to keep urging the Governor to make a parade of locking the stable door after the steed is stolen. Unless he comes out to-day or to-morrow he had better maintain silence, for he is on the very edge, if, indeed, he has not already passed it, which separates an act of sagacity from an act of folly. In politics, as on a field of battle, time is a decisive element. When a general sees that the enemy has made a false manœuvre he must take advantage of it on the instant, or the opportunity is lost. What are good tactics at one stage of the battle may be the most fatal of blunders at another. The HERALD advised General Dix to declare himself against a third term at the precise nick of time when such a declaration, coming from him, would have had a prodigious effect. He did not make his launch in the high tide, when it would have proudly floated, and it is for him to decide whether he will knock out the props and precipitate it into the slimy mud left bare by the ebb. The difference between low water mark and high water mark is the difference between the advice of the Times and ours. Had General Dix followed our advice when we gave it it would have been the salvation of the party. But that very identical advice, when given at ebb tide by the Times, might prove as mischievous as it would have been advantageous two weeks ago. Time and tide, say the copy books, wait for no man. They have not waited for Governor Dix, and if he has reason to deplore a great opportunity lost and a great advantage forfeited it is not the fault of the HERALD.

Mr. Stanley's African Expedition.

Mr. Stanley, chief of the HERALD expedition, organized and equipped for the purpose of completing the unfinished explorations of Dr. Livingstone, will now soon be again in the heart of Africa. Having reached Zanzibar, and having, with his official corps, been accorded a friendly reception by the Sultan, he will meet with no difficulties in obtaining the needful men, mules and supplies for his expedition. His valuable knowledge, obtained from his first adventure to Ujiji, will serve him well in this campaign. He will know accurately what is wanted in the way of animals, drivers, carriers, pioneers, equipments, provisions and merchandise for purposes of trade with the natives. He will know the road and its dangers and difficulties, and how best to avoid or overcome them. He will know how to secure the friendship and co-operation of the African chiefs en route, and the chief and his people of Ujiji will receive their good friend Captain Stanley with a hearty welcome.

Ujiji will be his second or interior base of operations. From this point he will set out for the real work before him, the exploration of the region lying between that system of interior rivers and lakes explored by Livingstone and the established drainage of the wonderful Nile. Stanley believes, as Livingstone believed, that the whole interior system of lakes and rivers, from the seventh degree south latitude, with their general outflow to the northward, are drained into the Nile. Others think that Livingstone's great interior basin is tributary to the Congo, which flows west into the Atlantic. Sir Samuel Baker, from his last expedition to the great equatorial lakes of the Nile, came away with the information from native traders of the region that the Albert Lake has a navigable connection with Lake Tanganyika, on which Ujiji is situated. These two questions—the drainage of Livingstone's interior basin, and whether the Tanganyika is or is not to be added to the great equatorial lakes of the Nile—we hope will be settled by Mr. Stanley in the explorations he has undertaken. He goes out with the advantages of many years' experience from his various African expeditions. He knows the requirements of his present enterprise; he is qualified and equipped to meet them, and we are confident that he will return crowned with complete success.

President Grant as a Speech-Maker.

President Grant within the last few weeks has been making remarkable progress as a speech-maker. His first public efforts as our Chief Magistrate were very brief and unpromising. Beginning with a bow to his audience,

Only this and nothing more, he advanced to "I thank you," and next to "I thank you, ladies and gentlemen," and then to "I am much gratified with your cordial reception and I wish you good night," he still slowly, for four years, improved, until his responses extended to five or six newspaper lines in small type. In his Atlantic coast excursions this last summer his speeches occasionally were lengthened to ten lines, but during the last fortnight, in the "brown forests" and the broad prairies of the Mississippi Valley, he has rapidly enlarged his remarks to the proportions of a regular and neatly presented discourse.

Among the red men of the Indian Territory we find that our diffident President begins to be inspired. Doubtless, from the absence of unmerciful reporters, he feels greatly relieved, and in the presence of the honest children of the forest and the prairie he feels greatly inspired. And so from point to point, warming up to his work, he meets the responsibilities of the occasion and the expectations of his audience. His is not the copious stream of eloquence which flows from the lips of Andrew Johnson while "swinging round the circle;" nor does General Grant deal in the classical periods or illustrations of "Old Tippecanoe and Tyler, too," in their popular discourses; but to the point and the purpose he gives us the concentrated essence of a cable despatch.

For example, in response to the welcoming speech of the Choctaw Nation, their "Great Father" tells them that he is gratified to see the evidences around him of their prosperity; that he is glad to see them engaged in raising stock; that he thinks, from this industry in their fine country, they cannot fail to become wealthy; that he has always endeavored to protect the Indians from injustice and give them every civil right; that in future years, if he should drive again through their country, he hoped to pass through great fields of cotton and other profitable products, to which the soil is so well adapted. He had no doubt that those people in time would be among the wealthiest citizens of the United States, because their soil and climate justified the opinion; and, finally, he was much pleased to meet so many citizens of the Choctaw Nation. Similar replies, though not quite so lengthy, were made by him to the welcoming addresses in behalf of the Creeks and Cherokees, from all of which it is apparent that our modest President can, if he will, speak to the requirements of the occasion.

This fact was fully established in the President's interesting and exceedingly appropriate speech at the unveiling of the beautiful monument to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, at Springfield, Ill. There was a compact little speech, fully of happy thoughts and reminiscences touching the genial and gentle character of Lincoln, and well expressed. Surely, with this example before us of what General Grant can do in a public discourse if resolved to try, we have reason to believe that he will soon become as quick to seize the situation on the rostrum and to sweep the field as on "the perilous edge of battle."

The Comedy of the Coulisse.

Great as has been the public pleasure over the millinery drama it was reserved for Mr. Bronson Howard to afford us a new delight—the comedy of the coulisse. We may struggle against the conviction as much as we please, but after all we shall be forced to the conclusion that in the fashionable judgment there can be no drama without dress. Art is not art if it lacks the aid of the modiste. The only difficulty hitherto experienced has been in finding a theory of dramatic construction that will allow a liberal display of dress goods and yet not repress the natural flow of spirits which belongs to the American girl. Of course we are now speaking only of the American drama—they do these things better in France. No dressmaker can turn a real actress, however fine her figure, into a mere model for the display of millinery wonders if the playwright has given her a part with some relation to a plot and with a little action and feeling in it. A society part in a society play nowadays must demand nothing of the heroine except to dress as society girls dress and to talk as society girls talk. It is plain that, to afford such an opportunity, the regular course of a plot and the activity and bustle of even ordinary dramatic action are out of the question. But as the success of every piece depends upon popular appreciation, and as the populace are divided, one-half demanding a plot, or something like a plot, in every drama and the other half asking only a saucer of sentiment, a sweet voice, a pretty face, a splendid figure and sumptuous harness, it became exceedingly difficult to please both parties. Mr. Howard, in his new play of "Moorcroft," shows dramatists how to obviate the difficulty. He has made a discovery which will satisfy everybody—it is the new idea of the comedy of the coulisse.

It may puzzle some of the readers of the HERALD even to understand what peculiar field of art is occupied by this new element in the classification of the drama. The comedy of the coulisse—who ever heard of that before? Nobody; for it was only last Saturday night that the young dramatist let the world know that he had invented it. In a fortnight everybody will know everything about it and everybody will be talking of the capabilities of this newly discovered domain of art. The comedy of the coulisse is a revelation, and it can scarcely fail to prove a source of perpetual delight to theatre goers. But how shall we describe it? It is a thing so fine in conception that to be appreciated it must be seen. Words only drag it down to the vulgar level of vulgar things. It is nothing but a side show, but if we called it a side show it would be considered little more artistic than a circus. It has a much higher purpose and can be adapted to suit all circumstances. A young lady is possessed of some dramatic talent and blessed with a deliciously foreign accent, sure to take with the audience. Another young lady has a splendidly moulded form, and is a great favorite on account of her beauty and her dashing American manners. Here is an opportunity to blend in pretty unison a flower from the foreign conservatories and a native rose in its first bloom. Such a bouquet our managers have longed to present; but how could they do it and yet preserve the seeming requirements of art? The comedy of the coulisse has answered that question. It is simply to place the two young creatures on a rustic seat by a side scene and let them talk—the one as society girls are supposed to talk, and the other in broken English, so sweetly done as to merit a recall. This is the comedy of the coulisse. Again, an actor has some comedy talent, and he is, on that account, a prime favorite with the manager's patrons. It would be absurd that the requirements of a plot should keep him out of the bill, especially if the action is laid at Newport, where the side scenes afford unlimited scope to the imagination. All that is necessary is to call him Uncle Ruckert, or by some equally felicitous name, and bring him on. This is the comedy of the coulisse, and without it this was impossible. Or again, a "star" performer in a variety troupe has remarkable powers of imitation, especially of disagreeable women who are nowhere more disagreeable than on the stage. In order to show the actor's peculiar powers to people who never go to "variety entertainments" it is only necessary to put a name like "the present Mrs. Peters" in the bill and give the actor a chance to howl in the side scenes and walk over the stage once or twice. This is the comedy of the coulisse, and without it this would have been considered presumptuous and preposterous in a drama.

THE BRITISH ANNEXATION OF THE "FEEJEES."—The Feejee, or Fiji, Islands having been formally turned over to the possession of England, Queen Victoria, as sovereign over the group, takes the place of the lineal successors of

Hoky-poky-winky-wang,
The King of the Cannibal Islands.

The group lies in the South Pacific Ocean, between the fifteenth and twentieth degrees south latitude, and embraces one hundred and fifty-four islands, sixty-five of which are inhabited. Only two, however, are of a size worth mentioning—Viti Levu, which is about sixty miles square, and Anua Levu, a hundred miles long and from fifty to sixty miles wide. The whole cluster are fertile and very productive in tropical fruits. The formal cession of these islands to England is important only as the beginning of her probable absorption of most of the other groups lying between New Zealand in the south and the Sandwich group in the north. Our government, perhaps, will have nothing to say upon the subject except that the independence of the Sandwich Islands must not be disturbed.

THE INFAMOUS COOLIE TRADE has received its death blow in the Republic of Peru by a treaty with China, in which peace and fraternity and the universal rights of man are the principal provisions. Chinese emigrants in Peru are to be treated with the same deference and justice as native citizens. It is to be hoped that this good example will be followed by other Spanish American nations and colonies.

The Commercial Outlook.

The condition of business during the present autumn is not only a test of the wild theories broached in Congress last winter but a tolerably sure criterion for estimating future prospects. The pretence so vehemently urged for many months after the panic, that the chief need of the country was more currency, is of course exploded by the great abundance of money at this season of the year, when the movement of the Western grain crop is at its height. The banks have more money than the community can use, and there has never been an autumn when loans could be obtained at such low rates on good security. This ought to have have been foreseen during the crazy inflation clamor. The amount of money needed bears some proportion to the amount of business, and an immense curtailment of business was a necessary consequence of the panic which toppled so many great houses to the ground. The men who failed were among the most daring and adventurous members of the business community. They were engaged in sinking vast amounts of active capital in enterprises like the Northern Pacific Railroad, which could bring no returns in this generation, and in extending manufactures beyond the ability of consumers. After the crash not only was the money misemployed in these undertakings set free for other uses, but the class of pushing men who had given an unhealthy stimulus to business were disabled from again perpetrating this kind of mischief. The amount of currency remaining the same, and the uses for it being so greatly diminished, it was a necessary, and ought to have been a foreseen consequence, that the supply of money would for quite a period be in excess of the demand. A contemporary calls attention to a fact which is one of many illustrations of the difficulty of finding profitable employment for money at present. Within the last thirty-six days ten millions of dollars of city taxes have been paid. This forwardness to pay taxes is without precedent, the experience of previous years having been that money could be employed to better advantage in the early part of autumn.

And yet, with money so cheap and abundant, there have been some failures within the last week or two. These failures are of little significance, however, except to the houses immediately interested. Nobody interprets them as premonitory symptoms of another panic. The general business of the country is too contracted and too cautiously conducted to admit of a wide collapse. There is nothing surprising, certainly nothing alarming, in the fact that a few houses which barely rubbed through the embarrassments of last year by the leniency of creditors or the assistance of friends find themselves unable to go on. Their hopes of getting through depended on a full revival of business this autumn, which has proved a vain expectation. Especially in cases like that of Mr. Clews, who was prostrated by the panic, but set on his feet again by the favor and confidence of friends, everything was staked on a large and profitable business this fall. But the general business of the country rests at present on a solid basis of actual capital, and cannot be shaken by a few sporadic failures.

The Dutch Pneumatic Sewage System.

The sewer poison question has very justly excited grave and anxious agitation among architectural engineers for many years, but through a new system not long since proposed by an accomplished Dutch engineer it is in a fair way of satisfactory solution. Modern mechanics has had no practical problem to give it greater perplexity than to so adapt the present water carriage system as to rid our houses and streets of the deadly gas which escapes from the public drains. The ingenuity of inventive genius has been vainly racked to produce traps and valves to intercept the noxious effluvia which are emitted into our bedrooms and parlors, often converting them into hospitals of diphtheria and other fatal diseases. The pneumatic system for dealing with sewer poison was suggested by Captain Liernur, and proposes to draw off fecal matter and the polluted air by pipes connecting with steam-worked air pumps. These pumps are attached to air-tight reservoirs beneath ground, in which by exhaustion about three-fourths vacuum is constantly maintained. From these large tanks pipes are laid along the principal streets, and at intervals smaller street tanks are placed, communicating by small, short conduits with the closets in each house. By partial exhaustion of the air in these receptacles for the sewer gas and effete matter, without the aid of water to flush the closets, the gas is drawn off from the house pipes and lodged in the main reservoirs, where it is finally disposed of without detriment to the public health. The pneumatic process, by the use of stop-cocks conveniently arranged, is effective also in removing excretal matter that is deposited in the house drains, which chemists tell us constitutes about ninety-six per cent of the zymotic or dangerous elements of our sewers. With the removal of this disease-stored element the engineer gets rid of the great source of epidemic maladies, and also of that which is most prolific of river pollution and soil infection.

The excellences of this system cannot be questioned. The great beauty of its working lies in its entire independence of the care of house dwellers and servants, whose neglect often proves fatal, even where now the best sewer traps and valves are in use. The pneumatic system does its work in spite of negligence or even intervention by householders, and while it may be attached to the present closet it is claimed to be a perfect substitute for it. No water is needed to flush the pipes—a consideration which is of momentous importance, especially since the water waste now necessary for cleansing the pipes has come annually to entail a water famine on most of our metropolitan cities. By the use of one-fourth of the water now employed the pneumatic system would do the entire work and do it with a perfectness the water system alone can never possibly attain. That the Dutch process is not a chimerical one was proved at the Vienna Exhibition last year, when it was attached to a part of the great building. It was there inspected by the Emperor of Austria, who discerned its great value and bestowed on its inventor the order of knighthood. It was further indorsed by the International Medical Congress of Vienna, who reported that the experiments "made in their presence convinced them that the entire system is capable of doing its work completely." It has been introduced by the imperial engineers in the government buildings at Prague with the highest success, and a private company there has introduced it more extensively, with the single condition (which has proved remunerative) that they should have all the sewage matter. In Amsterdam and Leyden it has been also practically applied to the districts inhabited by the poorer classes, whose ranks were annually decimated by the sewer poison incident to the old water carriage system.

Why cannot the same be done in some sections of our American metropolitan cities, in which the health officers so constantly have to record alarming infection due to sewer poison? Its inexpensiveness is obvious, if we regard the enormous economy of water alone, to say nothing of the saving of valuable life and of sanitary machinery now required to mitigate the evils of the existing system.

POLITICAL MOVEMENTS IN THE SOUTH.—The United States marshals and their deputies in several of the Gulf States are still rigorously hunting up and running down suspected sheriffs, refractory White Leaguers and men charged with Ku Klux affiliations. Can it be that Attorney General Williams has not yet heard of the Indiana and Ohio elections, or does he suppose that the working up of Southern outrages will still serve as political capital in New York and Pennsylvania?

BRIGHAM YOUNG AND THE MORMONS.—Let it not be supposed that in the event of the death of Brigham Young the Mormons will be thrown into confusion touching his successor as head of their Church. All this is arranged and provided for, and the will of their great and revered leader, lawgiver and prophet will be the law to the Saints. Nevertheless, his death will push the Mormon question in Utah to a speedy solution.

These two gentlemen started for Irun yesterday morning, since which time they have not been heard of, and as two Englishmen are said to have been shot by the republicans it is believed that Messrs. Buckland and Jerrard are the parties referred to.

The Report of the Assassination of the American Not Confirmed at the Paris Legation.

PARIS, October 19, 1874.

The United States Legation here has as yet received no confirmation of the reported shooting of the American correspondent, Buckland, by Spanish republicans.

Sketch of the Missing American Correspondent.

Mr. Buckland, who was shot by the Spanish republicans, was private secretary to Minister Jewell in St. Petersburg. He returned to this country with that gentleman when the latter accepted the Postmaster Generalship, and it was on the recommendation of Mr. Jewell that Mr. Buckland was placed on the corps of foreign correspondents of the New York Times.

Republican Gains at Elections for the Assembly.

PARIS, Oct. 19, 1874.

The election in the Seine-et-Oise for member of Assembly resulted in the success of M. Senard, the republican candidate.

In the Alpes Maritimes, where there were two vacancies, MM. Medecin and Cheris, the republican candidates, were elected.

COULD NOT COUNT SUFFICENT VOTES.

Full returns of the elections yesterday for vacancies in the Assembly show that M. Dellisse Engrand, Bonapartist, heads the poll in the Pas de Calais, but as he fails of a majority a fresh election will be necessary.

COUNT VON ARNIM AND BISMARCK.

The Prince Chancellor's Tactics of Official Humiliation and Delay.

BERLIN, Oct. 19, 1874.

It is reported that the last domiciliary visit to the residence of Count Von Arnim was merely for the purpose of delaying his trial.

The Prussian Premier Afraid of the Parliamentary Opposition.

[London (Oct. 6) correspondence of Dundee Advertiser.]

There is no doubt that Count Von Arnim's threat to resume his position as leader of the conservative opposition in the Landtag has led indirectly to his arbitrary incarceration at the instigation of Prince Bismarck. The documents which were demanded from the Count were not of much political significance, but they were made the pretext for a thorough search of the Count's house for certain despatches which Bismarck wrote prior to 1866 about Austria and the ultramontanes, and which, if published, would seriously compromise his reputation.

GERMANY AND DENMARK.

VIENNA, Oct. 19, 1874.

The Tagespresse says Germany has given friendly and satisfactory assurances to Denmark in regard to the expulsion of Danes from Schleswig. She has admitted the possibility of mistakes through the excessive zeal of the local authorities, and intimated her readiness to examine each case and give full satisfaction where wrong has been done.

A fervent desire is expressed for the maintenance of good relations with Denmark.

GERMANY.

LONDON, Oct. 20—5:30 A. M.

The Morning Post reports that Germany has definitely proposed to the Powers the adoption of an international maratime code.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, Oct. 19, 1874.

By the falling of a house in Leeds this morning four persons were instantly killed and several injured.

RUSSIA.

LONDON, Oct. 20, 1874.

A special despatch to the Times says famine prevails in the Russian provinces of Kherson and Bessarabia.

THE ARGENTINE CONFEDERATION.

RIO JANEIRO, Oct. 19, 1874.

The news from the Argentine States continues warlike.

UTAH.

Newspaper Attack on Chief Justice McKean—Attention of the Grand Jury Called to It—The Case of George Q. Cannon.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 19, 1874.

Sunday morning the Salt Lake Herald published an item taken from the Virginia (Nev.) Independent which, commenting upon the charge of Judge McKean to the Grand Jury to look after the disposal of vast tracts of land and vast forests of timber by the Territorial Legislature, says:—

What will be done with them after they have been inquired into we do not know, unless indeed, with the accommodating spirit for which the Chief Justice of Utah is so remarkable, he appropriates them to his own use and profit, as he did the Silver Shield and a couple of other mines.

This morning the Chief Justice called the Grand Jury into the court room and read this item to them, and called upon them to investigate the matter, and if they found him guilty to indict him; and if they found the allegations in the item false to indict the editor of the Herald for libel.

George Q. Cannon is on the streets to-day and shows no disposition to run away. If he has been indicted for lascivious cohabitation, as was telegraphed from here several days ago, the officers seem to be dilatory in making the arrest. R. N. Baskin will contest his right to a seat in the next Congress as Delegate from this Territory.

THE INTERSTATE ABDUCTION QUESTION.

Letter of Governor Brown, of Tennessee, to Governor Beveridge, of Illinois.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19, 1874.

Governor Brown, in a letter of this date addressed to Governor Beveridge, of Illinois, in relation to the alleged kidnapping of one Smith, now indicted in this State for murder, takes the ground that Smith is now in the hands of the judiciary and out of his control, and that the constitution of Tennessee so distinctly defines and separates the judicial and executive departments that he cannot interfere.

He cites a like case now in dispute between Tennessee and Mississippi in relation to one Wilson, a condemned and escaped murderer, now in the Nashville Jail for horsestealing. As to the abductors of Smith, Governor Brown says no requisition has been made for them, but when it is made it will receive due consideration.

THE NAVIGATOR ISLANDS.

The Report of a German Naval Demand for Indemnity Not Credited in Diplomatic Circles in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19, 1874.

There is the best authority for the statement that the Navigator Islands have not been visited by a vessel of the German navy since the winter of the year 1871-72, so the report of a demand for indemnity by a German man-of-war is not credited in diplomatic circles in Washington. The Ancona is the only vessel of the German navy in Asiatic waters, and she was at last accounts at Nagasaki, Japan, and the dates of her recent movements make it impossible for her to have visited the Samaon group since last advices.

The annexation of the islands is a scheme on a par with that of St. Domingo, and will be agitated at the next session of Congress.

THE VIRGINIUS CLAIMS.

The Report of the Payment of Indemnity to Great Britain by Spain Still Unconfirmed—Probable Issue of the American Demand.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19, 1874.

No official information has as yet been received by our government or by the representatives of foreign governments at Washington confirmatory of the newspaper accounts that Spain has paid indemnity to Great Britain in satisfaction of damages in the Virginius case. The correspondence between the United States and Spain continues, but with no prospect of a settlement by that means. Therefore it is probable that our claims for indemnity will become the subject of arbitration, according to the terms of the Fish-Polo protocol.

THE INDIANA ELECTION.

Official Returns Received—Complexion of the Legislature.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 19, 1474.

The Secretary of State has received official returns from seventy-three counties, giving a total democratic majority of 14,733. The nineteen counties yet to hear from gave a democratic majority for Secretary of State at the last election of 815. The majority in some counties will be largely increased this year. Landers' majority in this district over Coburn is 566. Holman's majority in the Sixth is 2,467. The total on the State ticket, so far received, is 15,573. In Knox county there was a tie vote on the Representative and a new election has been ordered. Leaving Knox county out,

INDEPENDENT VOTE

THE LEGISLATURE STANDS:—

LOUISIANA.

Arrest of Citizens by a United States Marshal for Complicity in the Coushatta Murders—Decision of the Court Disregarded — Indignation of the Whites.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19, 1874.

The Bulletin has a special from Minden announcing the arrest to-day, by a federal marshal from Shreveport, aided by federal troops, of thirteen citizens on a charge of complicity in the Coushatta massacre. The news causes great indignation among the White Leaguers, as the United States Commissioner Twitchell had entered into a written agreement that all parties arrested should be tried in the courts in the parish and they are to be brought here in despite of the decision of Justice Bradley in the Grant parish case, in which he ruled the federal courts had no jurisdiction. This action, it is believed, will exasperate the whites and render the chance of a peaceful election very doubtful.

The Republican Committee of Fifty on the Address of the Central Church Mass Meeting.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct 19, 1874.

Governor Kellogg to-day received a communication from the republican Committee of Fifty, which says:—

It becomes our duty to state that the address adopted at a mass meeting held on the 8th inst., at the Central church in this city and signed by T. Morris Chester and others does not express or represent the opinions of the Committee of Fifty, appointed at the same meeting, for the reason that we are not yet prepared to repudiate republicanism or join its opponents. We pledge ourselves to the support of republican principles as represented by the national party as long as it continues to support and vindicate the equality of all men. If the present State administration concedes to us that which we deem to be just, we further pledge ourselves to give it our loyal and cordial support.

Troops Moving to New Orleans.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 19, 1874.

Companies C and D of the Thirteenth infantry arrived here from Camp Stambaugh yesterday and left for New Orleans. Companies B and F will arrive to-morrow from Red Cloud Agency and leave for the same place.

The Attempted Assassination of Gair.

CLINTON, Oct. 19, 1874.

Captain Bannon, who was in the buggy with Gair at the time of the attempted assassination, gives substantially the following statement:—

Saturday morning, about eight o'clock, Mr. Gair and Captain Bannon left Bayou Sara in a buggy together to speak at a meeting to take place at Jackson at noon that day. Colonel Griffin and Recorder Morgan, of Point Coupé, were in a buggy following close behind at the time of the attempted assassination.

At half-past eleven o'clock, when within about a mile of Jackson, in the parish of West Feliciana, the unknown assassin, concealed in bushes, fired with a rifle just as the buggy had passed far enough to give a fair view of Gair. The ball grazed the back of Captain Bannon's neck, he being next the assassin, and struck Gair on the left side of the head, back of the ear, passing outside of the carotid artery and ranging down the cheek. The ball was extracted near the mouth. The wound is a bad one, but not dangerous.

A Renewal of the Conference Authorized—Rumored Resignation of Ex-Governor Wells.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19, 1874.

The Republican State Central Committee to-day authorized the renewal of the conference, as invited by the conservatives. An umpire, to succeed Dr. Bonzano on the Advisory Board, will probably be selected to-morrow. It is rumored to-night that ex-Governor Wells has resigned as a member of the Returning Board, thus relieving Governor Kelllogg of all embarrassments on that subject and giving him an opportunity to reorganize the board in accordance with the conference agreement.

The fifteen men arrested at Coushatta charged with participating in the recent outrage are reported en route for New Orleans under guard of federal soldiers.

ALABAMA.

A Sheriff's Posse Arrested as Ku Klux—How Outrages Are Perpetrated—The State Never More Quiet.

MONTGOMERY, Oct. 19, 1874.

One month ago the Sheriff of Sumter county summoned a posse of forty-two men to suppress a negro riot near Belmont. The rioters dispersed without waiting for the arrival of the posse, and the posse was disbanded. A negro who carried the United States mail on a mule was detained a few minutes on the road by the posse to prevent the unnecessary spread of excitement in other and quiet settlements. Afterward the members of the posse were and also for stopping the United States mail, and released on bonds of $100 each. Large numbers of men are summoned to appear before the United States Court in Huntsville, on the extreme Northern border of the State, early in November. It is also reported to-day that from 500 to 800 warrants have been issued for the arrest of men in districts where no disorders have been reported. Many deputy marshals are being appointed on the recommendation of Charles E. Meyer, Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, although the State was never more quiet.

ARRESTED FOR KU KLUX,

RIOT IN INDIANA.

Attack on Railroad Laborers—State Troops Ordered to the Scene.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 19, 1874.

Governor Hendricks to-day received a despatch from the Sheriff of Porter county stating that a body of armed men were resisting his efforts to protect the employés of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad while attempting to lay a track across the Michigan Central Railroad, and asking for aid to quell the riot. The Governor ordered two companies of State Guards and a Gatling gun to proceed there immediately. They left to-night and will arrive at the scene of the disturbance about three A. M.

FRED GRANT'S WEDDING

Chicago Society on the Tip-Toe of Expectation.

THE INVITATIONS.

The Bridal Dress and Decorations of the Honore Mansion.

THE RECEPTION AND BANQUET.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17, 1874.

The wedding of Colonel Fred Grant to Miss Ida Marie Honore, to be accomplished at three P. M. on Tuesday, is the rich morsel of expectation which society is at present tasting with thrills of delight in this city of social sensations. The ladies who are intimate with the family of the bride rejoice in the delicious mysteries which always exist prior to such events, and carry their sweet consciousness of heartfelt sympathy in their mocking eyes and blushing cheeks and smiling lips. Of course, in their gentle bosoms repose secret materials for pleasant gossip, which half the world would be rejoiced to have put at its disposal, especially that large portion which cannot be present at the nuptials.

The preparations for the ceremony and grand banquet, veiled from the prying eye of Mrs. Grundy, of a sequence, excite the greatest curiosity in her and her daughters. The HERALD correspondent is more favored than the old lady and is the happy recipient of that confidence which elevates one's self-esteem and stimulates his gallantry.

THE WEDDING RECEPTION INVITATIONS

MARRIAGE IN A BALLOON.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 19, 1874.

A very successful balloon ascension was made here this afternoon by Professor Donaldson, who was accompanied by a bridal party of six persons. At the height of about a mile above the city the marriage ceremony was performed. The balloon landed safely about three miles from the place of ascension.

THE SWING HERESY CASE.

The case of Patton vs. Swing was before the Presbyterian Synod at Chicago yesterday. After a long debate it was voted to receive the complaint. The Judicial Committee reported in favor of admitting the appeal of Mr. Patton against the decision of the Chicago Presbytery in the Swing case.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

William H. Allen, aged twenty-two, residing at No. 667 Second avenue, a book-keeper in the employ of the Valentine & Butler Safe and Lock Company, of No. 289 Broadway, was arrested last night by Roundsman Bowen, of the Twenty-first precinct, on a charge of embezzlement preferred by David W. Thomson, treasurer of the above company.

AMUSEMENTS.

Italian Opera—Ruy Blas.

Marchetti's opera was given at the Academy of Music for the last time last night. The cast was the same as at the two previous representations, Mme. Potentini appearing as the Queen of Spain, Miss Cary as Casilda, Signor Carpi as Ruy Blas, Signor Del Puente as Don Sallust, and Signor Fiorini as Don Guritano. The performance was characterized with many additional points of excellence and the principal artists were more successful than ever. But Marchetti's work is a musical failure, and no cast, however brilliant, can ever galvanize it into anything like real popularity. The oftener it is heard the less it is liked. On Wednesday evening the event of the season will occur in the first appearance of the celebrated American prima donna, Mlle. Emma Albani, who will make her début as Amina in "La Sonnambula." The fame of this artiste has but reached this country, though her career has been in Covent Garden, London, she ranked beside Patti. At the rehearsal yesterday, under naturally disadvantageous circumstances, she astonished those present by the extraordinary brilliancy of her singing, and Muzio, staid and unimpressionable maestro as he is, was surprised for once into a genuine outburst of enthusiasm.

Booth's Theatre.

The farewell engagement of Miss Charlotte Cushman at this house was last night inaugurated with Shakespeare's "Henry VIII." The appearance of the house bore striking evidence to the popularity of the great actress, and when Miss Cushman appeared on the stage she was greeted with friendly warmth by the large and intelligent audience assembled to welcome her. It is not the least remarkable of Miss Cushman's qualities that she attracts a more intelligent audience than any actor or actress we know of. Other favorites draw together the wealth and fashion, but Miss Cushman, by some subtle power of affinity, seems to attract the brains of the community. It is needless at this time to enter at length into a critical examination of Miss Cushman's performance of the rôle of Queen Katharine. It is enough to say that as an embodiment of true womanly power and feeling it has seldom been surpassed. Miss Cushman never owed her success to the graces, but rather to the possession of a somewhat masculine nature that lent itself to the picturing of the stronger passions which change a woman's being and lift her for a moment almost out of the sphere in which we best love to contemplate her. But while her impersonation of the injured Queen is full of strength and dignity, it is also remarkable for its tenderness and womanly sympathy. Perhaps in no other of her impersonations has Miss Cushman so happily blended the tenderness and force of womanhood. In the court scene her scathing reproof of Wolsey and the struggle to repress her indignation offered a splendid example of the highest dramatic art.

The Lyceum Theatre.

Two years ago Miss Neilson made her first appearance in New York at Booth's Theatre. She presented herself without the usual introduction to which we have been accustomed. She brought no letter of recommendation from Charles Dickens. We did not hear of any valedictory dinner tendered to her by her English admirers; no noble lordling was engaged to send her off, with a speech fit for quotation in our press. Yet she succeeded! Last night she appeared as Beatrice in "Much Ado About Nothing" at this house.

If there be two characters diametrically opposed those two are Juliet and Beatrice. The one is a child of nature, untutored, without art or guile; but Beatrice is a civilized woman, an arch coquette, an artful, designing, witty demon, defending her weakness with skill. Juliet is all heart. Beatrice is all brain. One is all openness, the other all concealment; one is all lips, the other all nails; one is a fawn, the other is a marmozette. Miss Neilson played the first three acts of this character as she has played nothing before. She skipped through the part as a hoyden schoolgirl delighting in mischief and buzzing round her lover like a mosquito. Every time he tries to get the better of the teasing insect he only fetches himself a slap on the face; she is off, but presently her inexorable trumpet is heard around his head teasing him to madness. When the drop curtain fell on the third act the success of the actress was unquestionable. We regret to acknowledge she failed in the great act of the play. She misread the fourth act woefully, especially the scene in the chapel. Outraged by the insult to her cousin, Hero, and panting for revenge, Beatrice approaches her soldier lover with the deadly design of making him kill the offender Claudio. Full of this purpose she draws him on, pours her passionate confession into his ear, winds him in her arms and when he asks what he shall do to prove his devotion, then with the purr of a tigress she murmurs in his ear, "Kill Claudio." He revolts; she flings him off, and, bursting into the full rage of passion, cries out:—"Oh! if I were a man," but, choked with impotent passion, she clutches at an imaginary foe, terrible and cruel as only a woman can be, and hoarsely foams out, "I'd—I'd eat his heart in the marketplace!" Miss Neilson turned this magnificent explosion of rage into comedy—nay, burlesque—provoking insignificant, nay, impertinent, laughter, and making the judicious grieve. Beatrice is terribly in earnest in this scene. How could she play the lapwing after the mournful catastrophe which precedes it? Let her reform this scene altogether. Mr. Barnes has not the stride nor the soldierly bearing of Benedict—he played the part in a mild, gentlemanly, henpecked way. He reminded us of a tenor. He did not afford Beatrice any room to make a fool of him. The best played part among the male characters was that of Leonato, by Mr. Weaver. Miss Rose St. Clair was admirable in Hero. The comedy was splendidly mounted, and smoothly played to a cold audience, which was not so numerous as the occasion and the general excellence of the entertainment deserved.

Wallack's Theatre.

"Yes, it's an old play—old to the oldest inhabitant—for when this play of the 'Rivals' was first brought upon the stage in New York Canal street was a bayou and Union square was in the country. But you know these old comedies of Sheridan, and the dear, amiable Goldy, such as the 'School for Scandal' and 'The Rivals' and 'She Stoops to Conquer,' from time to time renew their youth, and that they are never old at Wallack's." Such were the remarks of an old campaigner at Wallack's last night, while awaiting the lifting of the curtain on the "Rivals." Now with Gilbert's Sir Anthony and Madame Ponisi's Mrs. Malaprop "how the old time comes back again." Mr. Arnott, as a substitute for Lester Wallack in the character of the gallant captain and submissive Jack, had a heavy task upon his hands, but he discharged it to the satisfaction of the house. Mr. Polk, as Sir Lucius O'Trigger, gave us all the dignity, but hardly enough of the snap and dash required of the gay and gallant Irishman. Mr. Carroll, as Faulkland, made perhaps as much as was needed of the milksop assigned him. Mr. Beckett, as Bob Acres, doubtless appeared perfectly splendid as Bob Acres to every one who had seen Davidge in the same character, but even compared with Davidge he was good. The Lydia Languish of Miss Lewis was neatly done, and the Julia of Miss Goldthwaite was a handsome and pleasing Julia. As usual at this house, the play throughout and in all its parts was smoothly performed and properly costumed to the historical period it represents, and, as usual, a full and appreciative house remained to the end, and then moved homeward, well pleased with the evening's entertainment. The romance of "A Poor Young Man" will be produced on Wednesday evening. The "Rivals" again this evening.

Niblo's Garden.

The spectacular play of "The Deluge" continues to enlist a large share of attention from that portion of the public which enjoys theatrical performances in proportion as they are gorgeous and sensational. "The Deluge" being the only spectacular piece now on our stage, and being in every respect well equipped and handsomely mounted, it naturally follows that it still receives a large share of patronage, notwithstanding the fact that it has been nearly eight weeks before the public. Its recent reconstruction has added greatly to its attractiveness, and what with its beautiful scenery, entertaining specialty features, splendid ballets and the exciting and brilliant denouement, it certainly possesses sufficient vitality to withstand the rivalry of fresher pieces and hold its own in popular favor for some time to come.

Olympic Theatre.

There was almost an entire change of programme at this house last night. Several new acts were introduced. Barney and Rickey played in a new sketch called "Our Boyish Days," and Mme. Deardon introduced her velocipede troupe. The sensation of "The Living Fountain; or, The Bath of the Innocents," was again presented, and met with even a more enthusiastic reception than it received on the first night. There are nine females, as scantily clad as possible, in the group, and the effect of the varied colored lights thrown on their figures presents a very attractive picture on the stage. The performance throughout was well received by a crowded house, and many of the acts were encored.

GREAT FIRE IN MONTREAL.

The Nuns' Block in a Blaze—Details of Losses and Insurance.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19, 1874.

This morning a terrible conflagration took place in the Nuns' block of magnificent four story and mansard roof cut stone stores and warehouses, bounded on the west by St. Sulpice street, on the south by Debresoles and Lecoyer streets respectively, and on the east by St. Dizier lane. These stores, eight in number, run parallel to another similar block, which lies between St. Paul and Locrier streets, and are by common consent regarded as one of the finest pieces of property in Montreal's business streets. Each store is separated from the next by stout party walls of brick, while the fronts are exceptionally thick, being one hundred feet deep, with two fronts. They are occupied by firms doing a large trade.

THE TROUBLES AT MOOSIC.

The Sheriff's Posse Withdrawn from the Mine—Another Demonstration by the Irish Miners—A Further Outbreak Anticipated.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 19, 1874.

Since the trouble two weeks ago the mine of the Glenwood Coal Company, at Moosic, has been guarded night and day by a Sheriff's posse, but Saturday night the guard was removed. Everything has been particularly serene for ten or twelve days. The Irish miners have grown less in number from day to day, and the mine owners became impressed with the idea that there was no longer danger to be apprehended. The mine has been worked without interruption, but to a limited extent, and it was thought the protection afforded by the officers of the law might be dispensed with. Accordingly, on Saturday the force was reduced to a mere corporal's guard, preliminary to removing it altogether if affairs remained peaceful. But yesterday there was

ANOTHER DEMONSTRATION

and considerable of a scare in the vicinity of the mine. Early in the morning a body numbering some fifty men made an appearance in Moosic, and their deportment indicated anything but pacific intentions toward the Welsh miners now working for the Glenwood Company. They remained about the mine and many of them were quite insulting toward those watching the mine. Toward evening the Superintendent became satisfied that the strangers meant mischief, and, apprehending that an attempt would be made this morning to prevent the Welsh miners from going to work, he came to this city for reinforcements. He managed to raise another posse of about fifty men and started for Moosic about four o'clock. At half-past six o'clock the force reached the mine, but everything was as quiet as could be. The men had all disappeared from the scene and

TROUBLE WAS AVOIDED.

It is evident that the Superintendent's movements had been watched and the approach of the posse from this city made known long before it reached Moosic. This demonstration fully corroborated the statement made in previous despatches that the Irish miners are merely waiting a convenient season and the withdrawal of the peace officers to wreak vengeance on the Welshmen now working in the mines. The war of races in that quarter seems to be merely postponed. There are no indications that it will not ultimately take place.

THE INDIANS IN FLIGHT.

General Miles Driving the Redskins Before Him—A Probable Surrender.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19, 1874.

The Adjutant General has received the following telegram from General Miles, forwarded by General Pope, via Army Headquarters at St Louis:—

HEADQUARTERS INDIAN TERRITORY EXPEDITION,
CAMP ON GAGEBY CREEK, TEXAS, Oct. 14,
via FORT DODGE, Kan., Oct. 17, 1874.

This command is driving large numbers of Indians in the direction of the Cheyenne Agency, where I believe they will surrender, if not to these forces. They are travelling rapidly in their endeavors to escape our forces. The expedition is operating in five columns with gratifying success.

THE TAX ON TEA.

Celebration of the Hundredth Anniversary of the Burning of the Peggy Stewart in Annapolis Harbor.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. Oct. 19, 1874.

One hundred years ago to-day the good citizens of this ancient borough, moved by a spirit of antagonism to the tax on tea instituted by the home government, went on board the Peggy Stewart, a vessel lying in the harbor here, loaded with the obnoxious commodity, and burned both her and her cargo. The centennial anniversary of this notable event was celebrated to-day by the existing citizens of Annapolis in a fitting manner.

THE PROGRAMME

as carried out was as follows—Meeting of citizens at ten o'clock A. M., on College Green; prayer by the Rev. J. W. Hedges, of the Methodist Episcopal Church; historical sketch by Colonel J. T. Scharf, of Baltimore; oration by the Rev. C. K. Nelson, D. D., Vice Principal of St. John's College. Benediction.

The procession, headed by the band from the Naval Academy, consisted of the city authorities, the schools and the various societies. After the exercises at the meeting it was reformed, and the vast concourse marched to the harbor, where the Peggy Stewart was reburned, with imposing ceremonies. A grand ball and tea party took place this evening, in which the ladies were dressed in the costumes of the eighteenth century.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELLERS.

Railroad Passengers Refuse to Pay Fare Until Furnished with Seats—The Question To Be Brought Before the Courts.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 19, 1874.

Yesterday afternoon about forty passengers on the 1:45 P. M. Erie train, from New York, were obliged to stand about half the way to Paterson, and consequently several of them refused to give up their tickets to the conductor unless he furnished them with seats; after they had got seats they insisted that they should not be obliged to pay their fare for the time and distance during which

THEY HAD NO SEATS.

The conductor refused to accede to this proposition and ejected the resisting passengers near Passaic. Mr. Joseph C. Todd, President of the Todd & Rafferty Manufacturing Company, was one of this party, and he has brought suit against the railway for $10,000. Mr. L. C. Blanning, a Philadelphia jeweller, and two residents of Paterson have also decided to sue the Erie Railroad Company for damages.

Murska to Weber.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15, 1873.

DEAR MR. WEBER—The fame which the WEBER PIANO has among European artists led me to expect much, but your instruments surpass that expectation. Such a pure, sympathetic, musical quality of tone, so much in accord with the voice, I did not hope for. Your cases are most elegant, and the touch pleasant and agreeable. I am not paying you too high a compliment when I rank you as the foremost manufacturer of the day.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, October 21—Eleventh subscription night.
First appearance in America of MLLE. EMMA ALBANI.
In presenting the name of the youngest and most illustrious of American Prime Donne, Mlle. EMMA ALBANI, Mr. Strakosch desires to congratulate the patrons of the opera upon the opportunity now accorded of bestowing their generous approbation upon an American artiste who has, in the first opera houses in the world—in Florence, Paris, St. Petersburg and London—successfully disputed the supremacy with the greatest living lyric tragediennes, and who, notwithstanding her youth, has already enriched herself with the combined repertoires of her renowned sisters in art,
PAULINE LUCCA, CHRISTINE NILSSON and ADELINA PATTI.
Confident that his efforts to render the season of 1874-75, if possible, more brilliant than the memorable one of last year, will continue to elicit the same liberal encouragement that the patrons of the opera have heretofore accorded to him, the Director has not hesitated to assume the extraordinary expenses involved by this engagement in order that New York may enjoy the advantage of Mlle. ALBANI'S talents.

THE DOWNFALL OF THE SPIRITS.

A Wild Seance at Tammany Hall—The Ghosts and Goblins Fail to Come to Time—The Proceedings Denounced and the Audience Break Up in Utter Confusion.

Last evening there was another spiritualistic séance held at Tammany Hall, in presence of about four hundred and fifty persons of both sexes, who seemed more disposed to be incredulous than on the evening previous. This time the audience had a larger number of young people in proportion to the total present than on Sunday night, and the spirit of fun was the only visible spirit present. The cabinet, with its green curtain, its ropes, guitar and other paraphernalia, were exposed on the stage, and the devoted body of Spiritualists, men and women, were all seated together to about the number of 150 on the right hand side of the hall. Dr. Miller, of Twenty-sixth street, who had acted as chairman of the committee chosen by the audience on Sunday night, was present, and sat in the body of the hall. The agent, Mr. Awfel Cheak, who had been so loud and insulting on the first night's performance, and who had done nearly all the talking, had moderated considerably in his manner and was ready to listen to suggestions last evening. He stated his "con-di-tions," as he called them, to the audience, who proposed Dr. Miller as their committee man; but Mr. Awfel Cheak did not seem to desire the presence of Dr. Miller upon the stage, and this, of course, was a signal for the audience to become quite noisy and to shout and cheer derisively at everything and nothing. Then a man named Robinson offered himself as a committee man.

A VOICE—Don't take Robinson; he is a Spiritualist, and was the man that exposed Gordon.

ANOTHER VOICE—Let Robinson go up and see what he can do.

MR. AWFEL CHEAK—I think we had enough of Dr. Miller last night, and he will not come up at all to-night on the platform.

DR. MILLER—I was appointed last night as a committee man, and I know there was a confederate behind the curtain, and I know that the medium slipped his arms out of the cords by his own human power, and I believe it is all a swindle, and if I am allowed to go on the stage to-night I will prove it all here.

A SPIRITUALIST WITH LONG HAIR—Don't let Dr. Miller go on the stage. I protest against it. He only wants to puff and advertise his baths; that's all.

MR. AWFEL CHEAK—I think I will have to call to-morrow and get a Turkish bath from the Doctor, he seems so anxious to talk.

A RECKLESS YOUNG MAN IN THE AUDIENCE—Well, if anybody wants a bath it is you, Mr. Cheak. Get one as soon as you can.

ANOTHER VOICE (this time a pretty young lady)—I don't think I ever saw so many loafers in an audience before. How can they expect to have any manifestations from the spirits if they keep up such a noise? (Screams and cheers.)

AN OLD MAN WITH A BLACK OVERCOAT—Give us a chance to hear this Indian Chief Samossett. They say he died drunk on Long Island, peddling beads ten years ago. (Laughter and cheers.)

ANOTHER SPIRITUALIST—Samossett was a very decent man and his spirit is here among us to-night, but he can't act or manifest anything. (Derisive yells of "too thin," "too thin.")

NOISY UNBELIEVER—Is the "Sam" that's here to-night tight or sober? That's what we want to know. (Tremendous cheering, and cries of "give him a stew," and "ask him what he'll have?")

After some time the experiments were allowed to go on and the iron ring trick and the tying with ropes were managed in an awkward and insufficient manner. At one time there being on the platform three or four persons, some of whom were shouting at the top of their voices that they would give a hundred dollars to be permitted to tie the medium in their own fashion, while old Brother Robinson pulled out his pocketbook and offered a reward of $10 for the same privilege. Mr. Awfel Cheak, however, knew his business too well to give any such permission and loudly declared that he would have the medium tied only in one way. This information was received with groans, yells and catcalls of the most fearful description, and after some minutes had elapsed the medium was again shut up with a guitar and bells, and a noise of playing on the guitar and the bells was heard. Then several ladies volunteered to be shut up with the medium, and then there was more shouting, and one lady came out and said that the medium was not tied at all. The last experiment was tried by two ladies and two gentlemen, who gave the medium a chance to move the tables on two separate occasions, and in each case he failed to carry out his promise, and Mr. Awfel Cheak was forced finally to acknowledge that the noise and strong will of the audience was a force that prevented any manifestation of a spiritual nature. This statement was received with a perfect storm of groans, and the performance broke up in utter confusion. Each and every wild young man who could jump on the stage ran for a guitar, or a bell, or a bunch of iron rings, and for a few minutes there was a perfect saturnalia of a discordant concert, and the last scene in the séance was the shutting off of the gas by orders of General Ferrero, the manager of Tammany Hall.

THE TORRINA MURDER MYSTERY.

San Fellipo Discharged by the State Court and Arrested by the Federal Authorities for Counterfeiting—Mendalia Discharged.

Yesterday Francisco San Fellipo, the Sicilian, who was arrested several weeks ago on suspicion of being concerned in the assassination of Salvadore Torrina, was brought before Justice Neilson in the City Court upon a writ of habeas corpus and was discharged. No sooner was San Fellipo released than he was taken into custody by a United States Deputy Marshal on the charge of being connected with the gang of counterfeiters who were making preparations in the Franklin avenue den for issuing fifty cent counterfeit currency when the murder was committed. Deceased, it will be remembered, was a member of the party of counterfeiters located at that place. The federal officer took his prisoner before United States Marshal Allen, who examined him on the charge of counterfeiting. He was asked what answer he had to make to the charge of counterfeiting and of his having in his possession when arrested an engraved plate for fifty cent currency issue. Through an interpreter the prisoner answered that he knew nothing about it. Bail was fixed at $5,000, and San Fellipo was remanded to the Raymond Street Jail to await further examination, to take place on the 21st inst.

Antonio Mendalia, the Italian, who was arrested the day following the murder, and who has since been detained as a witness in the case, was also taken before Judge Neilson upon a writ of habeas corpus and the Court ordered his discharge. Mendalia, who is a young man and bore a good reputation for honesty and industry among his fellow countrymen, was overjoyed upon regaining his liberty so unexpectedly.

Miguel Chiaramonte, the other prisoner, who is held on the charge of being one of the assassins, will be examined on Saturday next before Justice Morse. He will also be taken into custody by the federal authorities as soon as released by the State and will be examined on the charge of counterfeiting.

THE LIQUOR DEALERS' ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the New York Liquor Dealers' Association was held last evening at Masonic Hall, Mr. A. Herzberg in the chair. Forty new members were presented by the committee and were duly elected. The Treasurer, on being called upon, read a statement of his accounts, showing the receipts during the year to be $17,909 20, and the expenditures $15,826 39, leaving a balance on hand of $2,082 81. The Financial Secretary was then requested to give his account, which showed the receipts to be $18,406, from dues, initiation fees, assessments, &c. A lively discussion ensued over the alleged discrepancy in the two accounts, and a motion was finally carried to appoint a committee to investigate the accounts. A committee was also appointed to inquire into the condition of the organ of the association, which is not a success financially, and to report some method to make it self-sustaining.

WORK OF AN INCENDIARY.

Attempt to Fire the Aquidneck Cotton Mill—A Reward To Be Offered.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 19, 1874.

While the watchman of the Aquidneck Cotton Mill was attending to his fires at an early hour this morning, some one, who was acquainted with the premises, entered the north window into the weaving room, set fire to the curtain and made good his escape. When found by the fireman the curtain was nearly consumed and the frame work considerably charred. Fortunately it went out of its own accord.

BURGLARS CAUGHT.

On Sunday morning the policeman on duty at the Centre street depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in Newark, had his attention drawn to two suspicious looking characters—two young men. They had in their possession 200 pocket knives, two revolvers and other fancy hardware articles. He arrested them on suspicion. Yesterday it was ascertained by Lieutenant Kirwan that early Sunday morning the hardware store of Stella & Gant, in New Brunswick, had been broken into and robbed. The prisoners gave their names as William and Daniel Davis. They were taken yesterday afternoon by the Lieutenant to New Brunswick and lodged in jail there. Messrs. Stella & Gant identified the property found as theirs. The Davises were on their way to New York when arrested.

ANOTHER STABBING AFFAIR IN UNION HILL.

Yesterday morning Charles Knowlesly was captured by Constable Yost, in Union Hill, New Jersey, for having stabbed and dangerously injured one John Heck, near the corner of Union street and New York avenue. It appears that at a late hour on Sunday night Heck was talking to a friend near Merter's stables, and noticed a crowd of men near by. One of them (Knowlesly), without any ostensible provocation, rushed at Heck and plunged a stiletto into him and then took to flight. Heck was carried to his home, suffering from loss of blood. It is probable that his injuries will not prove fatal. His assailant was caught however, and committed to await the result of the wound. During the previous evening he displayed a pair of revolvers, with which he threatened to do bloody work.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA INDEBTEDNESS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19, 1874.

The Attorney General renders a long opinion on the question of the liability of the Treasury to pay interest on the certificates of indebtedness issued by the late Board of Public Works of the District of Columbia. He decides, on numerous authorities and precedents and the acts of Congress, that interest is due to the holders of the certificates at six per cent.

SUICIDE AT NEW PALTZ, N. Y.

NEW PALTZ, Oct. 19, 1874.

Lewis Coe, a citizen of New Paltz, who has been missing since Saturday, was found dead in his brother's barn this morning, having committed suicide.

ANOTHER STEAMER MISSING.

The Coast Wrecking Company's Steamer A. Winants Supposed to Have Foundered at Sea with All on Board.

But little doubt exists in the minds of people in this city connected with shipping interests that the sidewheel steamer A. Winants, with all on board, has been lost. The vessel in question was the property of the Coast Wrecking Company and started on the 23d of last month for her winter headquarters, viz., Key West, where the Company proposed to keep her till next April. Yesterday afternoon a HERALD reporter, in his search for information regarding the missing vessel, called at the office of a veteran insurance president, whose opinion in such matters is generally reliable. He said:—"I unhesitatingly give it as my opinion that she is lost. The steamer Georgia has arrived here from Bermuda bringing no tidings of the Winants, and everything points to the conclusion that she is lost."

The A. Winants left the company's wharf at Staten Island, on the 23d of September last, bound for Key West, and provisioned for over two months, so that should she still be afloat, there is no possibility of those on board being short of food. The vessel reached Fortress Monroe on the 26th September, and the following day, viz., the 27th, she was spoken by a passing vessel twenty-five miles northeast of Frying Pan Shoals, North Carolina. She was expected to have called in at Wilmington, N. C., and Savannah, but since she left Fortress Monroe no tidings have been heard of her, and it is believed that she was caught off Charleston in the fearful gale of the 28th September and foundered.

The names of those on board the vessel are as follows:—John A. Brown, agent of the company, about forty-five years of age, married.

C. M. Quinn, master, aged about forty, is a widower; has commanded the vessel since the company bought her.

W. Clemenshaw, cook, has been several years in the company's employ.

Timothy Donahue, deck hand, single.

William Gray, deck hand.

Stephen Denario, deck hand, recently cabin boy.

Joseph Inslee, chief engineer, been connected with the A. Winants, like Captain Quinn, since the company bought her.

John Morgan, fireman, also an old hand, resides on Staten Island.

George B. May, fireman, new hand.

Mike McHugh, fireman, old hand.

Barney McCaffrey, fireman, is celebrated for being taken off wrecks by the company's steamers, having on two occasions left wrecked vessels to join the company's employ. He was once taken off the steamer Circassia, and at the commencement of the year he was taken off the schooner James McCarthy, of Philadelphia, now lying stranded at Sandy Hook.

James Stanton, an old wrecker from Cape Cod, aged about thirty-six, consumptive.

Irving Newbury, "wrecker" (?), of Barnegat, aged about eighteen years, went for a pleasure trip; had been residing in Jersey City.

W. Martin, wrecker.

John Haggerty, wrecker, of Staten Island, single, about twenty-two years of age, is reported to have considerable money through his father's death.

The steamer in question was about 137 tons burden, and was built at Keyport, N. J. She had new boilers inserted two years ago. She bore a striking resemblance to the well known steamer Seth Low. Her engines were built by Fletcher, Harrison & Co. In 1872 she hauled the steamer Mississippi off the Florida coast. It is thought possible that it was her hull, bottom up, sighted by the Grace Bradley on the 14th inst.

TRIAL TRIP OF THE CITY OF TOKIO.

At thirty-three minutes past ten yesterday morning the Pacific Mail steamship City of Tokio left the Canal street (North River) pier on an engineer's trial trip. It was the first occasion on which she had ever moved by her own engine power. She went ten miles beyond the Sandy Hook lightship—about thirty miles from the Battery, New York. The maximum pressure of steam carried on the boilers was forty-five pounds per square inch, and the maximum number of revolutions of the engine was forty-four per minute. Under these conditions, and with "half a gale" going out in her favor, and the same against her returning, she made twelve knots per hour, which is an improvement of five-eighths of a mile per hour, relatively, on the best speed of the City of Peking. She was loaded to draw 19 feet 6 inches aft and 16 feet 6 inches forward, and was back and "docked" in her pier within six hours fourteen minutes from the moment of leaving it, after having made three complete circles, each of which averaged eleven minutes fifty-three seconds. A large number of invited guests on board the steamer enjoyed the trip and spoke in high terms of the working of her machinery and her behavior under steam.

Maritime Miscellany.

SHIP KING PHILIP, Rawlins, from Baltimore for San Francisco, reported per cable as at Rio Janeiro, leaking, was discovered on fire in the hold when in the Bay of Annapolis, believed to be an incendiary attempt to burn the vessel. This was extinguished, and then the crew mutined and a number were put in irons, they claiming that the ship was not seaworthy. A survey was made, the vessel pronounced to be sound, and after a week's delay the men returned to duty. The King Philip is an old ship, and belongs to a port in Washington Territory.

SHIP ANNA GOUDEY (Br), Bent, at Savannah from Antwerp, while being towed up from Tybee morning of Oct 14, got aground on the west side of the channel, near the point of Fig Island. She was, by the assistance of another tug, gotten off safely and placed in dock.

One of them is of a capacity of 1450 tons, and owned by Messrs Charles Q Hill and others, of Boston, and Capt L B Small, late of the Winged Hunter, who will command her. She will be completed in Jan next, probably. The second will carry 1500 tons, and will be owned by Capt Frederick Moore, of Newburyport, and Capt James H Stanly, of the same place, who will command her. At the yard of Mr George U Jackman two ships are also on the stocks. One, the Reporter, will be launched next week, and will be commanded by Capt Spring, of Newburyport. The chief owners are Sumner, Swasey & Currier, of Newburyport, although several other parties hold shares in her. Her tonnage is 1,400 tons, and she is meant to be first class throughout. The second, not yet near completion, is owned by Messrs Lord & Sons, Capt Knowles, Capt J Nickerson and others, and is of the same general appearance and finish and the same tonnage as the Reporter. At the yard of George E Currier, two two-masted schooners are on the stocks, and also two schooners are being built by Messrs Cally & Lunt.

The barkentine which is being built by Mr T J Bentley at Richmond, NS, will be launched on the 25th inst. Her dimensions are 137 feet keel, 30 feet beam, and 17 feet depth of hold, carpenter's measurement, over 650 tons. Mr D McPherson is making good progress with the bark which he is building at Richmond. She will probably be launched early next month.

Beacham, a three-masted schooner, named the John S Beacham, 106 feet in length, 28 feet 6 inches breadth of beam and 8 feet 6 inches depth of hold, and 200 tons measurement. The material used in her construction was yellow pine and white oak. She will be commanded by Captain J C Woodland, who is part owner of the craft.

Notice to Mariners.

DISCOVERY OF A ROCK IN THE ATLANTIC.

Captain Antonio Picasso, of the Italian bark Teresa, which arrived at Queenstown Oct 2 from New York, reports as follows:—On the 9th of September, at 1 PM, wind northerly, very light, and clear weather, with sea perfectly smooth, observed on the horizon a large rock, in the shape of a trapezium, about 4 miles to windward, in lat 40 N, lon 62 18 W. Tried to beat up to it, but owing to the lightness of wind could not do so. The rock lay north and south, and was of a reddish brown color. Discerned the seaweed on it plainly with glass. The dimensions are as follows:—Length, 100 metres (3 feet 3¼ inches per metre) on south part, 10 metres broad and about 6 metres out of the water, which was low. About 2:45 PM the rock bore N, and we made by chronometer calculation that the rock was in the exact position of lat 40 N, lon 62 18 W. Capt Picasso states that he has a chart of 1848, by Noneys, on board, with this rock marked on it; but there are two degrees difference of longitude. This, he says, is accounted for by the incorrectness of the old chronometers. The Captain was surprised at not finding this rock on an English chart, by Wilson, dated 1872, and also by a French chart of same date which he has on board. The Captain also states he tried for soundings, but could get none in the vicinity of the rock.

SHIFTING SANDS—The captain of the schooner A G Hazard, of Essex, reports that in coming in over Saybrook bar, on Saturday night, the 10th inst, his vessel grounded on a sand shoal with only four feet of water upon it, where he lay seven hours at the mercy of the wind and waves. Captain Mack reports that but a few days before he passed with his vessel over the same spot and found ten feet of water. The opinion of the captain is that the breakwater now being built at the mouth of the river is the cause of the sand shifting thus suddenly, to the detriment of navigators.—[New Haven Palladium, Oct 19.]
